Shartel Signs Ouster Suit For City Against Utilities Company

A telegram received by Roger Bailey, city attorney Thursday morning, stated "Sikeston Petition signed and filed this morning", signed, Shartel, Attorney General.

In other words, Shartel had courage eonugh to disregard considerable pressure brought to bear by Utilities interests to set aside the ouster suit in favor of a local city ballot on the proposition. The Attorney General's office went so far as to give the Utility Company a public hearing on August 19, at which petitions directed to the City Council and to the Attorney General were presented asking that no official recognition be taken of the proposed ouster suit, and suggestion again for a vote of the people to decide whether or not the Missouri Utilities Company was to remain in Sikeston, or forced to withdraw equipment and cease serving consumers of electric power.

As the matter now stands the City of Sikeston has filed with the Missouri Supreme Court a writ in quo warranto, to determine whether or not Sikeston is to have a municipal monopoy on the electric light and power business, and whether or not the Utilities Company will be allowed to remain as a competitor without a franchise.

LIONS RECEIVE INTERNATIONAL RECOGNITION

In a letter just received from Melvin Jones, Founder and Secretary-General of Lions International, the local Lions Club was commended on the work which they accomplished during the past year. Mr. Jones states that, in his annual report to the International Convention of Lions Clubs, which was held in Toronto, Canada, last month, he was happy to be able to include and give recognition to the part the local Lions Club played in the Associations' program of Service.

The record of their service, as taken directly from Mr. Jones' report to the Convention, is as follows:

Sikeston—Sponsored a Yard and Garden beautification contest for one year. Entertained delegates to the Osteopaths' convention in Sikeston. Co-operated with other organizations in planting trees along highway. Staged a community Christmas tree for underprivileged children of city, and had a Santa Claus to distribute treats to all children. Bought sixty chickens for the Christmas hampers prepared by various churches for destitute families. Sponsored a theatre performance to raise funds for Christmas charitable work. Solicited donations for Red Cross drought relief fund. Contributed $25 towards support of public library. Sponsored troop of Boy Scouts. Entertained all school teachers of Sikeston. Met in joint session with Chamber of Commerce. Eight membership reports received.

An accurate record of activities is maintained at Internationl Headquarters which shows that, during the past year, 16,625 activities have been reported by the 2500 clubs in the Asosciation. These activities have been reported by the 2500 clubs in the Association. These activities have for the most part fallen under the following general classifications: Blind Work, Boys' Work, Child Welfare, Cithizenship, Civic Improvement, Co-operation with other agencies, Education, Farm Work, Public Welfare and Safety.

Presumably because of the increasing need for service work today, 3,108 more activities were reported for the past year than have ever been reported before.

ENERGY STATION BURGLARY COVERED BY INSURANCE

An example of modern efficiency in the adjustment of claims on burglary insurance is cited by John Powell, local representative of the Aetna Company.

The Energy Oil Station safe was badly battered by would-be burglars last Saturday night. Although the safe artists failed to gain entrance they did succeed in breaking the combination knob and door handle.

A wire to headquarters Sunday was answered in person Monday morning by A. E. Linzel, safe expert who brought about $1000 worth of equipment and tools.

Workmen at Hahs' Machine Works were called in by Mr. Linzel to weld the broken door, after which he installed a new combination entirely. Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the safe was returned to the oil station and Thursday morning a check arrived to pay for all damages.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Johnson of Akron, Ohio are expected Sunday for a visit with the former's brother, Earl Johnson and wife.

J. W. SWAIM DIES AT ORAN TUESDAY

J. W. Swaim, father of Al Swaim of this city, succumbed Tuesday at the age of 76 years, 10 months and 9 days. For the past several years he had been making his home with his son, Pate, of Oran, where he died. He had been in failing health since May.

Mr. Swaim was born in Murry, Ky., September 26, 1854. He was married when 22 years old to Miss Sallie Edward Utterback of Kentucky. To this union were born eleven children, seven of whom survive. They are Walter, Pate of Oran, Dick of Cape Girardeau, Rufus of Riverside, California, Mrs. Maggie Lusk and Mrs. Sallie Davis, also of California.

Following the death of his first wife about twenty-two years ago, he married Miss Ellis Mise, of this State, who survives. To this union were born two children, Guy and Mae Swaim, both of Cape Girardeau.

Funeral services were held in the Morley Methodist church Thursday, August 27 at 2 o'clock with interment in Morley Cemetery.

NEW W. B. A. PRESIDENT TO BE GIVEN CHARTER SEPT. 13

The regular meeting of the W. B. A. was held in the I. O. O. F. Hall Monday night, August 24.

It was decided to present the Charter to the new prseident, Mrs. Ben Ritter, at the next regular meeting, September 13. Guard practice will be held at the I. O. O. F. Hall Wednesday afternoon, September 2 and 9. All guards be present as this practice is very important.

The fraternity pin was won by Mrs. Irene Walker of Sikeston for the month of August. A pin is given each month to lucky member whose name is drawn. The Westway Club reported a nice meeting at the home of Mrs. Ruby Marshall.

Will meet with Mrs. Roy Waggner on Greer avenue, September 2.

CONNER BEATS WHITE IN MISSISSIPPI VOTE

Jackson, Miss., August 26.—Hugh White, candidate for the Democratic nomination as Governor of Mississippi in yesterday's run-off primary, conceded the election to his opponent, Martin Sennett (Mike) Conner, today, and telegraphed his congratulations.

Conner, a lawyer and farmer of Covington County, held the lead over White, a millionaire lumberman, from the time the first returns were received.

A tabulation of 264,019 votes, with complete returns from 47 counties, today gave Conner 140,911 votes and White 123,108.

The Democratic nomination in Mississppi is tantamount to election. Conner faces two tasks—wiping out of a $7,000,000 deficit in the State Tuesday left by Gov. Bilbo's administsation, and reinstatement of four of the State's major educational institutions that were dropped by accrediting associations.

Mrs. Moore Greer entertained Charleston frineds Tuesday afternoon.

We are srory to report Miss Nellie Rankin quite ill at her home on North Ranney Street from a severe attack of rheumatism. She has been absent from the telephone office for two weeks, but friends trust she will soon be able to resume her duties.

SEDUCTION CASE LEADS TO SHOOTING

William Farrow, 50 years old, farmer near Buckeye, east of Sikeston, was lodged in the Mississippi County jail last Thursday, facing charges of carrying a pistol, shooting with intent to kill, and being drunk, following an altercation with Cecil Stanfil, Charleston youth, over alleged improper relations with Farrow's daughter.

According to the report of a special representative of The Standard, Farrow entered the Smith and Ault Hardware Store last Thursday evening and asked to see young Stanfil, who happened to be out just then. Farrow, it is alleged, had been drinking. Stanfil entered the store after a few minutes and Farrow immediately grabbed him by his throat and arm. After shoving a pistol into his ribs, Farrow marched Stanfil out of the store and upstairs to the offices of Dr. Marshall. The latter, and another physician, who also has rooms in the building, was out so that no one witnessed the ensuing fight. The bullet from Farrow's gun grazed Stanfil's ear, and lodged in the walls of the doctor's office, where it was later recovered by officers.

Ike Smith, owner of the Smith-Ault Company, notified officers of the trouble as soon as Farrow and Stanfil left the building. Owen Cook constable and city policeman, responded and succeeded in taking the gun from Farrow and escorting the farmer to jail.

The case of State vs. Stanfil is set for hearing in the Scott County Circuit Court today (Thursday), but a postponement is predicted by followers of the case, who claim Miss Farrow, mother of a son born August 16, will be unable to attend.

PARTY STAGED BY TWO ILLINOIS WOMEN LANDS BOTH IN POLICE COURT

Mrs. Loretta Leitch and sister, Miss Hester Ginger, both of Harrisburg, Ill., pleaded guilty in police court Wednesday afternoon to charges of reckless driving and paid fines and costs aggregating $44.00.

An agreement was reached between the women and F. F. Trousdale, of this city, leading to the reimbursement of the latter in the amount of $41, which Trousdale claimed was obtained by the women during a "party" the night previous. Trousdale then agreed to drop charges of drunkenness and of resisting an officer previously filed against the Illinois visitors.

Mrs. Leitch and Miss Ginger claim they were visiting relatives in Morehouse, and stopped at the Trousdale filling station Thursday evening to have their car serviced.

The filling station operator then joined the party whcih drove to the nearby city. During the evening one of the ladies displayed a revolver when she thought an arresting officer was a holdup man.

O. M. Headlee, City marshal, of Morehouse, fired at the car in that city while attempting to halt the machine. About 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning Toots Nall drove to Morehouse, brought the party back to Sikeston, and held jewelry, car and a revolver in lieu of a cash bond for appearance of Mrs. Leith and her sister in police court that afternoon.

FINDS OLD RING

C. U. Harwell, who resides near Three Springs community north of Poplar Bluff, found a gold band wedding ring in the ruins of a fire which destroyed the Eli Lax home, in that community recently. The ring was dated January 28, 1880, and had the words "Orve to Rose". Harwell believes the ring is valued highly by someone, and he is willing to turn it over to the owner.

CHARLESTON WOMAN FATALLY INJURES ANOTHER IN WRECK

From the American Republic, Poplar Bluff, August 24.—Injuries suffered when she was struck by an automobile at Fisk last Sunday, caused the death at 3:30 this morning of Mrs. Sarah Frances Adams, aged 47, wife of James N. Adams of Fisk.

Mrs. Adams was hit by an automobile driven by Mrs. Vera Stotts, a widow, of Charleston. The accident occurred where the side road leads to the Missouri Pacific station in Fisk, at about 6 p. m.

The well known Fisk woman was going with Miss Mary Louise Jordan to the Jordan home to get some milk, when the Chevrolet coupe, driven by Mrs. Stotts came along. When Mrs. Stotts sounded her horn, Mrs. Adams hesitated, slightly, according to witnesses, and then tried to jump out of the way. She was struck by the right fender of the automobile and hurled some distance from the pavement.

Narrowly Escaped

Miss Jordan narrowly escaped being struck by the car when she ran out of the way, according to those who witnessed the tragic accident.

Mrs. Stotts stopped her automobile as quickly as possible, and later one of the tires went flat, with a nail in it. Whether the tire was responsible for her losing control of the car is indefinite.

Immediately after the accident the injured woman was taken to the Jordan home and a physician called from Poplar Bluff. When her condition was found to be critical, an ambulance was called and she was brought to the Poplar Bluff hospital here.

Had Visited Father

Mrs. Stotts had been to Williamsville where she spent the day with her father, B. F. Young, who is agent for the Frisco railroad there. Her mother died some few months ago, it was explained. She was alone in the car, which was traveling about 30 miles an hour, when the accident occurred.

Witnesses to the accident, according to information obtained by the American Republic, said it was merely an accident in which no one could be blamed. Mrs. Stotts, it is said, had been driving about 30 miles an hour for some distance. Motorists who were trailing her along the highway, said she had maintained that speed for severa miles.

Highly Nervous

Mrs. Stotts was highly nervous as result of the tragic accident. She was taken to the homes of friends in Fisk, and later resumed her trip to Charleston.

Mrs. Adams was well known and had many friends in Fisk and vicinity. The entire town today was enveloped in a pall of sorrow as result of the tragedy.

Surviving are the husband, three children, Byron, Avon and Velva, two grandchildren, a brother, James Hopkins and mother, Mrs. Florence Hopkins, all of Fisk.

ROUND TRIP BIRMINGHAM TO SIKESTON TAKES 12 HOURS

J. C. DeHoll, president and H. I. Bliss, assistant secretary-treasurer of a Birmingham, Ala., banking concern, flew from that city to Sikeston, viewed some 902 acres of farm land controlled by the corporation near here, and were home again in time for 6:00 o'clock dinner in Birmingham.

C. F. Bruton supervises farming operations on the 902-acre tract and accompanied Mr. DeHoll and Mr. Bliss on their round of inspection. The bankers picked peaches about 12 o'clock, and later informed Mr. Bruton that the fruit was served that evening for dinner.

DeHoll and Bliss expressed the opinion that "Southeast Missouri was one of the finest agricultural sections in the United States".

STODDARD COUNTY HAS DISPLAY AT STATE FAIR

Sedalia, August 26.—From Southeast Missouri the Stoddard County display featuring corn, cotton, soybeans and cowpeas has been prepared by E. C. O'Neal of Bloomfield and J. Mothersbaugh of Dexter. This county is also entered in the county fruit display, as well as cottou, tobacco, legumes and potatoes. The entire picture shows the opportunities of Southeast Missouri.

GUARDSMEN RETURN FROM CAMP SUNDAY

Fifty-five enlisted men and two officers comprising Company K, 140th Infantry National Guard, returned Sunday afternoon from a two weeks' annual encampment at Nevada, Mo. Approximately 500 persons were waiting at the Missouri Pacific depot here Sunday evening at 5:00 o'clock when the guardsmen returned.

The men broke camp, were mustered out and paid Saturday afternoon. Company K entrained Saturday night about 10 o'clock and arrived here at 5:10 the following afternoon.

The entire camp period cost Uncle Sam approximately $164,000 and accomodated about 3000 men, including the 138th and 140th Infantry, the 110th Engineers and 35th Brigade Tank Company. Of this amount, approximately $81,000 was expended in payroll, and $83,000 for transportation, food and incidental camp expenses. Company K officers and men drew about $1400 Sunday afternoon.

Following is a list of men who qualified in the record firing August 17 and 18:

Kilgores Comedians come to Sikeston next week, opening next Monday night, August 31, on the Fuchs lot, south of the Hotel Marshall.

During the week the troupers will present the following plays: "The Narrow Path", "Wandering Daughters", "Unwanted Child", "Trail of the Lonsome Pine", "Poor Little Rich Girl", "Over the Hills" and "The Bad Man". Leading roles are carried by Miss Bebe White, Freddie Lytell and Henry "Toby" Eastman.

Ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by one paid adult ticket on opening night.

Ash Grove—Frisco bridge over Sac River, one and one-half miles west of this city, rebuilt.

WORKMAN PLUNGES CITY INTO DARKNESS BY CUTTING CABLE FOR TREE ROOT

All series-connected white way lamps in the business district failed to light last Monday evening at the proper time. Calls began sifting in to the plant and office.

About an hour afterwards, trouble shooters for the city plant found the trouble. A workman digging a curb trench at the postoffice building site on New Madrid Street, had whacked a foot length of cable and cast it aside thinking it was part of the root system of a nearby tree.

LOCAL COURT DOCKET CROWDED FOR THURSDAY

The case of U. J. Boyer of New Madrid, charged with reckless driving, has been continued from last Thursday to September 3. Boyer, taxi driver from New Madrid, collided with an ice truck operated by Floyd Porter in this city.

Louis King, colored, will face charges of reckless driving next Thursday, September 3. King, it is alleged by Ralph Durham, failed to signal when he turned directly in the path of the latter, causing a serious accident last Saturday north of Sikeston. A bond of $300 for the appearance of King was signed by J. W. Marshall.

Essex Richmond, negro, is in the County jail at Benton awaiting on September 3 on charges disturbing the peace of Clark Neil, negro, living near Salcedo. Neil alleges that Richmond fired a shot into his home last Saturday using a revolver. After his arrest Richmond denied any connection with the affair, and denied also having a gun. Officers found a revolver strapped to his leg below the knee, a number of shells in one pocket and the cartridge chamber in the other.

Charges of seduction against Elmer Nickens and of incendarism against Carl Johnson are still pending. No date has been set for a hearing in either case.

YOUTH WHO ENDED OWN LIFE BURIED AT MORLEY

Homer Atherton, who died by his own hand at Memphis, Tenn., August 23, was born at Morley, March 20, 1897, the son of Richard and Mary Butler Atherton.

At one time his father was one of the biggest farmers in Scott County, but died in 1903, leaving the widow with eight children to rear. Black, the second son died in 1909 and the following still survive. Charley of Charleston, Roy of Memphis, Dick of Chicago, Mrs. A. M. Adams, Mrs. J. M. Stowe and Ileen of Morley. Funeral was held Tuesday at the Baptist church with Rev. D. M. Margraves in charge and burial in Morley cemetery in the family lot.

PORTAGEVILLE 4-H CLUBS HOLD ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

Two 4-H Sewing Clubs at Portageville held their very interesting Achievement Day last Saturday afternoon at the home of the leader, Mrs. Pearl H. Wilson. The younger club was composed of a group of 13 girls from New Madrid County and the second year club was composed of five grils from Pemiscot County.

A very interesting program was held by the members followed by short talks by Mrs. Wilson, Extension Agent Scott M. Julian, and Extension Agent M. D. Amburgey, and Mrs. Kate Bandy, who has been helping Mrs. Wilson with the club work.

Five 4-H Club girls from Matthews chaperoned by Mrs. Clifford Sutton were visitors.

The display was quite remarkable, many very wonderful garments, including dresses having been made out of flour sacks at very little expense.

Following the program, watermelons were served and following that a smothered chicken supper with French fried potatoes and much other food was enjoyed by all.

WADE SHANKLE TAKES JOB AS WEIGHT OFFICER

Wade L. Shankle has received notice of his appointment to the position of Weight Officer in Division 10, recently vacated by Clarence Weekley. Shankle assumes his new responsibilities September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Martin are entertaining with a dinner party Thursday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brenton.

EAST PRAIRIE MAN ENDS LIFE WITH A PISTOL

Jerry T. Wheatley, 41, of East Prairie, committed suicide by shooting himself through the right temple beneath a tree a mile and a half south of Cache on Route 150 about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

A head injury received four years ago when Wheatley fell from an office window is believed to have affected his mind. His body was discovered by Mark Pearman, superintendent of the county farm, who was returning to the farm from Cairo in his car. Pearman first thought a Chevrolet sedan he observed beside the road had become disabled. He stopped to investigate and fonnd the dead man lying nearby, a 38-caliber revolver still clutched in his hand, and a bullet wound in his temple.

Wheatley was known in the Miller City and Olive Branch areas where he had worked this season with a threshing outfit. He had sent a telegram at Olive Branch at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon to Undertaker Ted Shelby at East Prairie, saying:

"Tell my wife I was last seen in Olive Branch. Watch for my body".

Apparently Wheatley drove directly from Olive Branch in the Chevrolet sedan to the spot where he shot himself, after writing a letter to his little daughter.

Wheatley had $39 in his pockets when he killed himself, and apparently had no pressing financial difficulties.

The inquest was held by Coroner Dan Sullivan Tuesday night at the funeral home of E. A. Burke. A verdict of suicide was returned. The jury was composed of the following men: Edgar Stephens, Harry Eichoff, S. W. Shoemaker, J. C. McClarry, A. W. Hildboldt and C. M. Costley.

Wheatley's family was notified and his body turned over to Undertaker Shelby, to whom he had addressed the telegram at Olive Branch.

BEN HUR DELEGATE WELL PLEASED WITH CAMP TRIP

Mrs. A. Weigandt, delegate from the Skeston Chapter to the Ben Hur encampment on Lake Taneycoma from August 16 to 23 is ready to back up her claim that the pleasure and rest camp is the finest in the State.

The encampment is held annually expenses paid for members of that order who obtain at least seven new members. Next year, says Mrs. Weigandt, it is planned to have their own cabins at the resort or nearby. Plans call also for the establishment of a hunting lodge to accommodate men during the Fall and Winter hunting season, and during the Spring and Summer fishing season.

TIME TO PLANT FALL GARDEN SAYS FURRY

Scott County Farm Bureau office, Benton, August 27.—Fall gardens are as valuable as spring gardens and easier to tend. At this late date we can plant spinach for use until after frost (can even dry spinach leaves to use in the winter). Fall spinach and mustard are two late planted crops that can go into frost and in some cases of mild winter such as we had last winter will go through the winter.

The White Strasburg radish is an excellent one to plant now for Fall use. For a "winter" radish the Chinese Red and Black Spanish may be planted. They get good about frost time and under average conditions are almost a foot long and an inch in thickness and of a good texture.

Kale is another plant for greens that does well as this time of the year. Carrots of an early maturing variety will normally mature by frost time as well as an early variety of beets. Our old friend turnip is now ready to plant for Fall and the leaves of the turnip may be used in connection with spinach or mustard for making the greens taste better.

Chinese cabbage may yet be planted and make a go. Bush Lima beans stringless, greenpod beans or Golden Wax beans still have a chance under normal conditions to mature by frost time.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stein and Miss Kathryn Stein of Cape Girardeau and Miss Dorothy Sheppard of St. Louis spent a few hours in this city Wednesday evening, visiting the J. N. Sheppard family.

YOUTHFUL CHICKEN THIEF IS CAUGHT

Henry Orville Anderson, 23 years old, was picked up Thursday morning about 6 o'clock and held on charges of stealing chickens from the Harvey Baker farm, 8 miles south of Sikeston. Anderson claims to live on Highway 62 near Risco, and readily confessed stealing the birds. He had eleven fryers Thursday morning, and when caught was waiting at the door of the Goodwin Poultry House. He admitted also robbing the same roost three weeks ago, taking eight of Mr. Baker's chickens. They were disposed of in Sikeston.

Deputy Constable Toots Nall was called about 6 o'clock Thursday morning and found the young man waiting, sack in hand, for the poultry house doors to open.

Nall and Constable Brown Jewell took Anderson to New Madrid that same morning to face charges.

MISS SCILLIAN ENTERTAINS

Miss Madelon Scillian delightfully entertained her friends Wednesday afternoon with a party. SAFE CRACKERS BUNGLE A JOB

A good workman deserves good tools, is an old adage, and in the case of the Energy Oil Station robbery last Sunday night proved its truth.

Would-be burglars gained entrance to the Highway 60 station by forcing a window. Then with an old spring leaf from an automobile, a large sledge with a short handle, and an old screw driver, the bunglers managed to knock away the combination knob of the safe. The door refused to yield to their efforts, however, and the week-end station receipts were left intact.

DR. McCLURE DESCRIBES TRIP TO AND PRESENT

Conditions in Old Country

Hotel Hammerand,
Wien, Austria, Vienna
Sunday, August 16. '31

(Letter arrived here August 26)

C. L. Banton, Jr.,
Dear Blant:

Since I have myself located for sometime, I thought I had better have your sensation sheet. You may send it to me at the address I give you and don't forget, I need it.

Will try and give you a resume of my trip over here. It may interest you and may not—anyway I'm giving it to you.

Came over from New York, on the "New York", landed at Hamburg, 8 days out of N. Y., a delightful trip, sea smooth and fairly warm weather. The Hamburg American Line runs a special train from Cuxhaven to Hamburg, which takes two hours. I had ample opportunity to see the wonderful park system of Hamburg and the whole town, as I was there about eight hours. Leaving Hamburg at 11 p. m. I slept the first few hours of the trip in a perfectly good berth entirely different from our sleepers in the States. One has a whole compartment by themself—only one berth and is just a small room. The next morning, 9 a. m. gave me an opportunity to see some of the country. Germany has many beautiful forests of birch, pine and spruce. The fields are rather small and intensively cultivated. In one field you would see two cows yoked to a plow and in the next field a modern plow pulled by horses and occasionally a tractor plow.

Believe me, the women work too. You could see them everywhere in the fields pitching hay, plowing, and doing a man's work. There is very little waste land and all roads were excellent, and all were landscaped with flowers everywhere and ornamental trees along all roads.

The farm houses are mostly all very old but externally, in good repair. The one striking thing was that everything was so clean and orderly. If you walk on the grass or throw any rubbish on the street you are fined a small amount by the first policeman that catches you. Everything is clean and kept that way. In all the cities in Germany and Austria everyone that can leave, goes to the country and one would think that the whole country was on the move.

Vienna—pronounced Veen—is a delightful old city. Many of the buildings are more than a thousand years old and the architecture of the churches principally, is wonderful. Have not been inside of any of them as yet. The streets are all paved with cobblestone mostly. The side streets are all very narrow but the main streets are very broad and transportation by street car, tram or bus is rapid and efficient.

There are several good hotels, some modern and some partially modernized. However, if you want a bath, that's extra. One shilling (14c). The hotel rates are about what they are in the States, but one can get a private room for about $15 per month. Bath, soap, towels, etc., are added to your bill.

The food is good and plentiful. The average meal costs about three shillings (42c) small and large shops that sell most everything one would want are everywhere, and things are cheap. A Borsaline man's hat costs from three to four dollars. Tailor-made suit, the best, about forty to sixty dollars.

The University is a wonderful institution of about 11,000 beds in the various hospitals and one can get any work on any subject one would need, or want, at a fairly reasonable price.

The weather has been rather cool since I have been here averaging about 65 degrees.

This is about as much as I can tell you about this place until I find out some more about it myself. Send me your sheet Blanton. Best personal regards.

T. C. McClure.

NEW TYPE MELONS PROVE WILT RESISTANT CLAIMS

Wilt resistant melons were put on display at Holcomb last week by County Agent Talbert who tried them out this year with I. N. Goodwin of Frisbee and H. G. Jones of Kennett, Route 1, and reports on same.

They definitely proved themselves immune to wilt on the Goodwin farm where wilt is severe. A row of Irish Gray was planted to check on the wilt resistant varieties. Practically all the Irish Gray vnies wilted. None of the other varieties wilted.

The rinds on the wilt resistant varieties were tough, insuring their ability to stand shipping.

The eating quality of the Iowa King was satisfactory. The Pride of Muscatine was below average as to eating quality, and the Iowa Belle was inferior in this respect.

As to size, the Iowa King, a long melon stripped somewhat like the George Rattlesnake, reache d about 22 to 24 pounds. The Pride of Muscatine, a long melon with a blue-green solid colored rind, averaged 2 to 4 pounds smaller than the Iowa King. The Iowa Belle, a round green-splotchy colored melon, reached only about 16 or 18 pounds and was the poorest prospect of the lot.

The Iowa King was the best prospect of the lot according to Talbert, who says, 'If the wilt keeps spreading and gets into practically all our melon land, we can perhaps use the Iowa King if scientists are able to give it more size. But the population will have to greatly increase, and the world will have to get more melon hungry than it has been for these varieties to be of economic value. This condition is perhaps a generation away".—Kennett Democrat.

Kennett—Plans underway to establish airport in this city.

Hog cholera causes the death of 400 pigs every hour. Yet this disease is preventable, acording to the United States Department of Agriculture. Preventive measures consist of the use of the serum treatment to immunize the pigs, keeping the farm premises sanitary, and excluding all possible sources of infection from the hog lots. Cholera attacks both the strong and the weak pigs. Immunize them while they are young—it costs less.

FERTILE VALLEY NEWS

Hurrah for Morehouse! When you curry a mule the wrong way, he always gets high behind.

Hoyt Holt and Miss Mattie Lou Byrd attended a surprise birthday party at the home of Dee Wallace last Friday night.

Mr. Carroll has a small cane mill which he is trying to get in operation. He will make Dick Williams' crop of sorghum this week.

Miss Jo Malone, living two miles north of Buckeye, was said to be the best looking girl in Fertile Valley vicinity. Who said so?

E. W. Holt is making sorghum. He has a power mill and is making from 75 to 100 gallons per day of the "best lasses what is". Mr. Holt lives one miles north of Buckeye.

Hurray for the farmers through this section or at least most of them. They'll have corn bread and sorghum this winter and might survive the winter if they can get the fuel to cook the bread.

Last Friday night a good crowd enjoyed a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Frey's, 2 miles north of Miner Switch. Ice cream and cake were served. Mr. Frey's son and wife and a number from Sikeston attended.

FIRST OFFENDERS TO BE TRANSFERRED TO ALGOA

Jefferson City, August 24.—First offenders between the ages of 17 and 25 years, sentenced to the State Penitentiary for Boys at Boonville may be transferred to the Intermediate Reformatory at Algoa by the Department of Penal Institutions, with the consent of the Governor, a ruling by Attorney General Walter Sloat, today held.

The transfer can be made at any time, regardless of the offense for which the offender has been senetnced said the ruling which was approved by Attorney General Shartel.

Wash fairly large tomatoes and scoop out the insides are far as possible. Fill the centers with cottage cheese which has been mixed with chopped pickles, olives or nuts. A different kind of a filling can be made with a combination of vegetables or with chicken and celery. Serve on lettuce with a dab of thick dressing.

On this page this issue we are carrying a number of recipes, mixtures or messes that may be of interest to our women readers, but will not appeal to the stomachs of many men. However, most of them will eat what is set before them and say nothing. These are all copied from other sources and none recommended.

We were over in Ed Crowe's County of Stoddard, Sunday, and learned that some things in the hilly sections are more backwards than we ever dreamed. For instance they are very slow weaning their children. Seeing a boy 6 years old still feeding at the breast, a neighbor said: "Why don't you wean that boy? He ought to have been weaned when 4 years old". The mother replied: "Every time I try to wean him, he cusses and I'm afeared of him". The neighbor suggested putting asoefoedita on her breasts, which the mother did the next day just before she and her husband took the infant to church. During the service the infant wailed, "Mom, I'm hongry". The mother replied; "You can't have anything here", but finally, to make peace, she gave him the breast. He tried both, spit and said, "Paw, give me a chaw of terbacker; damn if Maw ain't been eating wild onions".

It is estimated that the apple crop this year will be 218,000,000 bushels, which insures an adequate supply for the Hoover Street Corner Apple Market this winter.

The Postoffice Department reports that vast sums are handled annually through the mails with practically no loss from robbery. The explanation is fairly simple. It is that no mail robbery case is ever closed until it is closed by the arrest of those who staged the robbery. Criminals have been taught that it does not pay to rob the mails, and their attempts at it have steadily diminished, until they amounted to only nine for the whole country in a recent year. It is a plain lesson for law enforcement, as for criminals, in every other field.—Kansas City Times.

It is a question whether life's joke is on animals or on human beings. Whether men are smarter to work and strive take care of the animal creation, or the animals are smarter to eat and be taken care of can only be decided by man, and of course he is prejudiced. A two weeks' old calf can swim a river the first time it gets in the water, while a lot of men who have tried all of their life can never learn to swim. A cat or a chicken, the dryest of dry animals and fowls, can swim safely if thrown in water, yet neither may ever before have had its feet wet. A thousand head of cattle of a given breed and age do not markedly vary, one from the other, but imagine, if you can, the inequality in a thousand nude human beings, forty years of age. Assuredly there will be shown almost a thousand different physical results, because of the varied life habits. A pig or puppy, at time of birth, can immediately be removed as far as ten yards from its bed, yet either will find its mother's breast in a few minutes. A baby will starve, lying at its mother's side unless aided. Experts who are being sent out by our universities and those who have to do with animal husbandry, are years ahead of us. If they want to produce weight or speed or strength or wool or milk, they feed for that item in a given animal, and get the expected results. So it might be a good idea to watch these men and their work and the results, and apply similar procedures to human beings.—La Plata Home Press.

Good Recipes And Some Not So Good

These are salad days, indeed . . . these warm summery days when cool, crisp foods seem so appetizing and refreshing! Now more than any other time of the year, the planning of inviting dishes is important. Entirely new recipes are needed to stimulate appetites . . . and here is a list of delectable salad and dessert ideas . . . all easy to prepare, ever so economical, and perfectly certain to turn out right.

SALADS

Jellied Ginger Fruit Salad

1 pkg. lemon jelly (prepared)
½ cup boiling water
1½ cups ginger ale
2 cups fruit

Add the boiling water to the lemon jelly and stand over boiling water till it is thoroughly dissolved. Remove from the heat, add ginger ale and allow it to stand until slightly thickened. Fresh fruit cut in small pieces can be used or canned fruit that has been drained should be put in the lemon jelly just when it has begun to thicken. Pour this into one large mold or small individual molds which have been wet with water and not dried. Cover the molds and allow them to stand in a cold place for several hours until they are firm.

Serve this on lettuce leaves with a dab of mayonnaise. This will make enough for at least two days' serving.

Jellied Fruit Salad

1 small can of fruit salad
¼ cup fine chopped celery
walnuts
1 tablespoon gelatine
2 tablespoons cold water
1 cup liquid

Drain the can of fruit salad and cut the fruit in small pieces. The liquid save and add enough boiling water so that it makes a cup. Add the celery and a few nut meats to the fruit. Soften 1 tablespoon gelatine in the cold water. Pour the cup of boiling liquid over the gelatine until it is dissolved. If it does not all dissolve set it over boiling water and stir until it does. Then cool this mixture and when it thickens slightly add the fruit mixture. Pour into molds which have been wet with cold water and not dried. The molds should be allowed to stand in a cold place till the contents have become firm.

Summer Salad

2 large apples
chopped walnuts
lettuce
1 stalk celery chopped
½ tart orange
½ cup mayonnaise

Cut the apples across, each apple making a bowl when the centers have been scooped out. Put the apple in lye water with some salt and the juice of a lemon so that the apple will not discolor. Chop the celery after it has been scraped, cut the orange after all the membrane has been removed. Mix some of the chopped apple from the center with the celery, orange and nuts, and pour over this some French dressing. When ready to serve, drain the apples and put this mixture in the inside, set on lettuce leaves and top with a red or green cherry. Mayonnaise may be served on the lettuce or on top of the apple.

Jellied Carrot and Pineapple Salad

1 package of lemon jelly
1 cup liquid
½ cup grated raw carrots
½ cup grated pineapple

Make a lemon flavored jelly using a cup of the liquid poured from the pineapple. Allow this to thicken and then add the carrots and the pineapple. Pour into a mold wet with cold water and allow it to become firm. Cut in fancy shapes, using sandwich or cookie cutters and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise or whipped cream.

Jellie Vegetable Salad

½ envelope or 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup vinegar or lemon juice
⅝ cup vegetables

The gelatine should be stirred and dissolved in the cold water, the boiling water is poured over this and the sugar, vinegar or lemon juice added. When it begins to thicken add the vegetables and stir. Pour into molds that have been wet with cold water. This takes several hours to make firm by chilling. Pretty color combinations can be made with peas, carrots, lima beans, tomatoes, cabbage, olives, etc.

Perfection Salad

1 tablespoon granulated gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
¼ cup sugar
⅝ cup chopped cabbage
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup chopped celery
1 pimento chopped
¼ cup chopped nuts

Soak the gelatine in cold water and dissolve it completely in the boiling water. Then add the sugar, salt, vinegar and lemon juice and cool until the thickening begins. Stir in the celery, pimento, nuts and cabbage. Pour into molds which have been wet with cold water. Allow this to stand. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise.

Japanese Salad

1 finely chopped pepper
Equal parts salmon and rice
chopped celery

Combine equal parts of canned or fresh cooked salmon with rice. Season this well and add finely chopped green peppers and chopped celery. Moisten and mix thoroughly with mayonnaise. This is a pretty salad served on lettuce leaves.

SCHOOL BOARDS WARNED ON HIRING OF RELATIVES

Jefferson City, August 25.—Attorney General Shartel said today he is receiving a flood of complaints against appointment of relatives by district school boards.

"Such action by school boards is in violation of the letter and spirit of the Constitution of Missouri and should be stopped by the prosecuting attorneys, Shartel said.

The Supreme Court has held the antinepotism provision of the Constitution is self-enforcing.

PRESIDENT HOOVER GIVES WILD DUCKS A BREAK

Washington, August 25.—President Hoover today signed a proclamation shortening the open season on ducks from three months to one. The proclamation was described as a conservation measure which was approved by forty-three duck conservation organizations and was opposed by three such organizations and three ammunition manufacturers.

Hot Weather Salad

eggs hard cooked
vegetable coloring
lettuce

Allow one egg for each person. Hard cook the eggs and peel them. Mold them into apples, pears or plums by pinching them while they are still hot. Hold them under the hot water faucet while they are being molded. Fold a piece of paper in several thicknesses and cut one edge several times to make a sort of fringe. This should be dipped into vegetable coloring and then tint the molded fruit with it. Serve the egg on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Grapefruit, Dates, Cheese and Nuts

Grapefruit should be peeled and the membranes stripped off, dates cut in small pieces, chopped nuts added and mixed together with the dressing. Cream cheese may be rolled in small balls and dusted with the chopped nuts and placed on the side of the plate.

Orange and Celery Salad

Oranges cut in small pieces may be mixed with chopped celery and served on lettuce with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Orange and Onion

Peel the orange and cut in thin slices. Alternate these slices with thin slices of the onion. It is prettiest to have the orange and the onion the same size so that the slices coincide.

Lima Beans, Celery and Peppers

This mixture is delicious. The lima beans should predominate. Green peppers make a pretty garnish.

Cabbage with Shredded Coconaut

The raw salads are very popular now and this mixture is unusual and should be served with a French dressing.

Orange, Grapefruit, Pineapple, Nuts

Cut and mix oranges, grapefruit, shredded pineapple and nuts together with a dressing. Serve on lettuce.

Orange, Cream Cheese and Nuts

Oranges may be sliced or quartered, cream cheese rolled into small balls (like butter balls, and rolled in chopped nuts. Serve with dressing and saltines or a salad cracker of some kind.

Peaches, Pineapple and Nuts

Canned or fresh peaches may be mixed with shredded pineapple and nuts sprinkled over the top of the dressing.

Pineapple, Cheese and Nuts

Sliced pineapple is good for this, a cheese ball rolled in chopped nuts can be placed in the center and a dab of mayonnaise on the lettuce foundation or on the pineapple.

Peaches and Marshmallows

Canned or fresh peaches may be used for this salad, marshmallows cut up in small pieces and mixed with cooked dressing.

Peaches and Marshmallows

Canned or fresh peaches may be used for this salad, marshmallows cut up in small pieces and mixed with cooked dressing.

Pineapple, Rice Salad

First place a slice of canned pineapple on lettuce leaves and then add a mixture of peaches or apricots with cooked rice. Pile this atop the pineapple and add a heavy dressing.

Stuffed Prune Salad

Use canned or stewed prunes, fill the centers with a mixture of celery, nuts, chopped pickles, olives or cream cheese moistened by a dressing. A dressing should be dabbed on top of the prunes as well.

Asparagus, String Beans, Celery and Carrots

Canned or fresh asparagus may be used for this. The quantities in which these are used is governed entirely by what is at hand.

Chicken, Veal, Celery and Egg

Veal often "doubles" for chicken and a little of both makes a very tasty salad. Chopped celery and a hard cooked egg sliced may be used to garnish this salad.

Frozen Tomato Salad

1 cup cooked fresh or canned tomatoes sugared to taste.

Season the tomatoes and add the sugar until the flavoring pleases you. Pour into molds and freeze. This can be served on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise.

MEAT, FISH AND EGG SALADS

Stuffed Egg Salad

Stuff the egs as you would for stuffed eggs a la king, jut them on lettuce and use mayonnaise or some other dressing over them.

Crab Flake Salad

This can be made with canned or fresh crab flakes, mixed with chopped celery and mayonnaise. Garnish with a hard cooked egg finely sliced.

Egg Salad

Hard cook eggs, slice them and put them on fresh lettuce leaves and pour French dressing over them. Garnish with pimento if desired.

Salmon and Pea Salad

Canned or fresh salmon should be shredded—look for bones—and mix with peas. A mayonnaise dressing is good to use to mix with this.

Tuna and Celery Salad

Canned tuna fish should be mixed well with chopped celery and moistened with a dressing. Garnish with a hard cooked egg.

NEW MADRID PROTESTS CUT IN TRAIN SERVICE

Jefferson City, August 24.—The town of New Madrid, in New Madrid County, today filed a protest with the State Public Service Commission in the proposed substitution of tri-weekly train service on the St. Louis and Southwestern Railroad between Birds Point and Malden and between Malden and Lilbourn.

The protest said the Cotton Belt was the only line which served New Madrid, and that its industries needed daily service.

"It may not be profitable to operate the line at this time during the depression", said the protest, "but when conditions return to normal the line again will be profitable".

A hearing on the railroad's application to substitute tri-weekly service is to be held soon.

Two Cantaloupes May Look Alike . . .

Every home-maker knows that two cantaloupes may be the same size, the same color and shape—and yet taste entirely different.

The same thing is true of ice cream. Two dishes of ice cream may look the same. They may have the same color. They may be called "vanilla", "peach", "chocolate" or any one of a dozen different names. But the taste test will disclose a vast difference in flavor, in richness, in quality and goodness.

Mid-South home-makers for nearly three generations have learned that the familiar FORTUNE'S script signature on a brick or bulk package of ice cream takes the gamble out of the transaction. They have found they are buying a known quality. They have learned that while FORTUNE'S ALL-CREAM ICE CREAM may be, and often is, imitated, no one has ever been able to imitate the experience of many years that lies behind FORTUNE'S quality.

These same years of experience also have taught Mid-South home-makers to rely upon drug stores and confectioneries displaying the FORTUNE'S sign. They have found that the dealer who sells the best obtainable ice cream, also stocks the finest quality of drugs, fountain supplies, stationery, pharmaceuticals, chemicals and confections.

A FORTUNE'S sign in front of a drug store or confectionery, or displayed on a window or over a soda fountain is, in effect, a symbol of quality. It is an indication of the dealer's character, and of his consideration for his customer's welfare.

Whenever you buy ice cream, look for the familiar FORTUNE'S signature.

REMEMBER—Only ice cream may be sold as ice cream. Under the law, substitutes having less than 8% butterfat content must bear some other name. FORTUNE'S contains 16% butterfat, or twice the richness required by law.

AS I SEE IT

By I'm About Town

We have not quite made up our mind what position to suggest for Tom Allen, but convinced we are that he's a "big man" for some place.

Ozark and other hilly section papers please note the following:

A farmer in Michigan advertised in the local paper, inviting city folks to come out and get, "free of charge", all the nice rocks they might want and need for their rock gardens. The advertisement was a success.

Local folks can take a free trip to Akron, Ohio, by merely walking downtown and glancing at Tip Keller's window.

What this country needs right now is not a good five-cent cegar, but a woman's shoe extra large on the inside, and size 3½AA inside. Would they sell!

If all the malt, sugar, yeast and empty bottles purchased by women who are going to bake "brown sugar bread" were laid end to end—aw well, figure this out for yourself.

To the harrassed City Council we suggest another form of taxation, weed taxes. We suggest doubling valuation on every vacant lot allowed to grow up in weeds, and to triple the rate.

And speaking of taxes we find the following in the San Diego Herald:

In a good many cities of the West politicians are proposing "occupational taxes".

An occupational tax is a tax on the right to live; it is a nuisance tax, and we are against it.

We are, by the way, against ALL new taxes. You can't lower taxes by starting new ones.

An occupational tax is unfair because it doesn't tax all occupations.

No one has yet suggested a tax on politicians, although politics is an occupation—when it isn't a racket. And no one, you may be sure, ever will.

Why should a department store owner, or a doctor, or a garageman be taxed, while poiticians and executive secretaries—and, for that matter, newspaper men—remain occupationally untaxed?

There is only one way to reduce taxes, and that is to reduce expenses. We respectfully suggest that the politicians try cutting expenses for a bit, instead of trying to discover new victims to tax.

We are starting a fund, purely local, to buy the Missouri Pacific railroad new silent whistles for their engines. The boys on the run through our city here of late have made it their special duty to jerk the toot cord clear to the floor at the Shoe Factory crossing, then at the Mill, then Ranney Street, Kingshighway, New Madrid Street, Scott and finally Stoddard Streets, which is another way of saying that the danged whistle is tied down from the time the train enters Sikeston on the east until it leaves on the west and vice reverse. The new "silent" whistles will enable the engineer and fireman to toot their bloomin' heads off, without disturbing anyone living more than four miles from any crossing. Other folks will continue to take their chances.

Speaking of Credit

A slow-paying customer sent the following note to his grocers: "Please send six dozen eggs; if good, will send check".

The grocers, however, were not doing any business on such risky terms, so they wrote back: "Send check; if good will send six dozen eggs".

Contributed:

Have you heard the one that was going the rounds at a party the other night? It was about a deputy sheriff. The one under discussion had been sent to take inventory of the furnishings of a house to be sold at a sheriff's sale. He didn't come back.

A searching party found him stretched out on a couch in the house. Nearby, on a table, was a list reading: "One dining table, six chairs, one lamp, one quart whisky". The last item was scratched out and beneath it was written: "One pint whisky". That also had been scratched out and "One whisky bottle" inserted. The last entry, in a wavering scrawl, noted "One revolving rug".

"Ira, this is our twenty-fifth wedding anniversary; shall we kill a chicken?"

"Why punish the chicken for what happened 25 years ago?"

Little Mary was attending church with her mother, when she complained of feeling sick at the stomach.

"Go out in the churchyard for a few minutes and you will be better", whispered her mother.

Mary left the pew, but returned in a couple of minutes.

"Why, Mary, where did you go?" again whispered her mother, surprised at her quick return.

"I stopped at a box in the back which said on it 'For the Sick'. I feel all right now".

Deaths from auto accidents in the United States average 84 per day. The question arises whether these lives are worth saving, or if a death is of such proportions must be accepted as a necesary consequence of an unavoidable condition. If it is admitted that fatalities must be cut down, there is a sure and certain way of accomplishing that result. Signals and brakes are like antidotes for a man who already has taken poison. In the absence of a material reduction in speed limits, no relief is in sight.

A Harvard authority pronounces in favor of a general increase in inheritance taxes. Of all forms of taxation, the inheritance tax is least popular and most difficult to enforce. The right of the boy to receive the old homestead from the father is firmly implanted in the human breast, and so far as enforcement is concerned, the law can be defeated easily by a pre-mortem gift, in which event the monopoly of an accumulated fortune will remain unbroken, and the revenue to the State be defeated. Advocates of the inheritance tax never have been able to lay a basis for it in logic or justice, or to point out a way in which it can be made universally and evenly effective.

The Roadhouse Question Again

Just a belated line to the two good ladies of Sikeston who seem to be after my scalp anent the roadhouse controversy. Their letters just came to my attention.

I reply first to the "Interested Reader", who, as is often the case with altruists and 'soul savers', wanders far from facts. No one reading my article with unprejudiced eyes could see "ridicule" for the unfortunate woman who was trying to "save her husband". There are many kinds of women in the world, perhaps they are the better christians who are more forgiving and less tolerant. I represent the latter class, as I could not imagine myself going to the "lowest dives that exist" in order to save "some poor soul" for I cannot imagine that method being effective. One might go to almost an extreme for a son, for whom they are responsible, for our sons are worth saving at any cost; but trailing an "erring" husband from one dive to another in order to "save his soul" doesn't appeal to me. He is of responsible age and is either a man—or he isn't.

And when he frequents roadhouses and "is down" as the lady puts it, is when he thinks he is having the time of his life and in no mood to listen to pleadings for his soul, and the wife gets only abuse for following him around. Personally I can only reiterate what I wrote before, that between the dives and the wife and home, I would let it be a matter of his choice.

Next, the same lady thinks that I "am half-way in favor of roadhouses". I know very little about roadhouse. I certainly have no use for the prostitute, and but little more for the unctious, sanctiomonious prude; and it's been my experience through life that the more sanctimonious they are the less regard they have for veracity. Instance, her assertion that I think the wife "committed an unpardonable sin" when she went to that roadhouse "pleading with tears in her eyes etc." Far from it. I merely think she made a mistake.

The lady who signs herself "The Married Man's Wife", writes a good letter and a very sensible one and I pay tribute to her fealty even though we may not agree. And her husband has the rudiments of loyalty even tho' he does go to a roadhouse occasionally, and doubtless has many good qualities that holds her steadfast in her faith in him.

She says that a bottle of beer does not hurt anyone. Also that her husband is "no angel". Very few of our husband's are "angels" dear lady and I fancy we wouldn't like 'em any better if they were, would we? For I can imagine that an "angel' husband would be a very uncomfortable person to live with, and it's true that a glass, or a bottle of beer doesn't hurt anyone, and while I'm sure the wife would rather her husband would drink his beer at home, she is defending him, as a loyal wife should, so long as she lives with him.

THE OUT-OF-TOWN-READER.

But the Sign Says: "Hands Off"!

The nation today is paying for its liquor, about a billion dollars a year MORE than it paid before prohibition.

It is spending—in hard times—a few million dollars short of three billion a year, for booze.

It is consuming wine at the rate of 118,320,000 gallons a year; beer at the rate of 683,000,000 gallons; almost 40,000,000 gallons of alcohol—which means easily double that amount of "whisky' and "gin".

These are not "wet" figures; they are department of justice figures.

In 1930 there were more than 15,000 cases of liquor poisonings. Monetary loss: $50,000,000. Authority: American Medical Association.

Our murder rate steadily goes up. It is now 17 times that of 'wet" England and Wales.

Our jails and penitentiaries are overcrowded with "felons" and we are shoveling in more at a tremendous rate. England is emptying her jails almost as fast as we are filling ours.

. . . . Nothing, however, must be done about prohibition. Thats' the order from above, where the Ant Saloon League, the W. C. T. U. and various boards for regulating our morals sit in judgment upon us and tell us what's good for us.

Iowa boys in 4-H Clubs last year raised an average of 6.9 more bushels of corn to the acre than their fathers did in the same fields.

Dairy cows produce more milk if they have constant access to pure drinking water than if they are watered irregularly or only at certain hours. An automatic water bowl for each cow is the best way to supply water when the cows are confined in individual stalls, the Bureau of Dairy Industry has found. Place it at the right height—from 26 to 28 inches above the floor for Jerseys and other small breeds and from 28 to 30 inches for Holsteins.

SCHOOL TERM WILL OPEN HERE SEPT. 7

The fall and winter term of high school will get underway Monday, September 7 with some 1200 or 1300 Sikeston children on the prospect list as students.

Superintendent Roy V. Ellise looks forward to the largest enrollment in the history of the system here, especially since rural graduates will be enabled to attend high school tuition paid this year. For the past several years enrollment has shown a steady increase especially in the lower grades. At present nearly every house and apartment in the city is rented, which indicates that there will be a negligible loss, if any, from the fact that persons might have moved out of the city.

More and more educational requirements have been imposed upon faculty members, and upon candidates for positions in the local system until at present there are few teachers who have not had the equivalent of at least 90 hours of college or university training.

Superintendent Ellise will begin his eleventh consecutive term as head of the system. Other teachers on the faculty last term will for the most part be present again this fall. W. E. Mahew will be principal filling the position vacated by M. C. Cunningham, who will take charge of the Desloge school system this fall as superintendent.

Other new members of the faculty include Miss Uriel Haw of Benton in high school work, who succeeds Miss Cuthbert, resigned. Miss Myrtle Dalton of Cape Girardeau, Burdeen Schroff in departmental work at the high school and Miss Osie Kilgore in the grades.

A complete list of faculty members follow:

Superintendent, Roy V. Ellise.

High school: W. E. Mahew, principal; Mrs. J. Vieth, matehmatics; Isabelle Hess, vocational economics; H. F. Sherwood, manual training; Frances Burch, Helen Mothersead, Daisy Evans, W. B. Miller, Uriel Haw.

Departmental work at high school: Electa O'Hara, Madge Davis, Agnes Erley, Nellie Goodman, Ruth Cowan, Tharon Stallings, Myra Tanner, Myrtle Dalton, and Burdeen Schroff.

Grades: Maude Herring, principal; Wilma Ragains, Nell Yanson, Lucille Finley, Lucille Mount, Lucille Stubblefield, Ruth Bateman, Florence Crisler, Lydia Chaney, Jewell Mouser, Mrs. E. W. Davis, Mignon Newton, Pearl Allard, Mrs. W. W. Hinchey, Osie Kilgore, Dorothea Miller, Louise Blount and Annie Dudley Killam for mid-year kindergarten.

Colored: Iola Huddleston, principal and Nola Smith.

Sikeston citizens will watch another phase of school teaching with interest this year. The School Board went on record last spring approving a resolution automatically cancelling teachers' contracts in case Daniel Cupid makes a hit during the school year.

IS THIS BEAN A BEAN OR ISN'T IT? ASK MANY WHO HAVE SEEN THIS CURIO

An Australian bean weighing some 26 pounds has been "harvested" from a vine in the garden of Dr. and Mrs. Handy Smith of this city. One single sprout produced a vine which covers a telephone pole and runs 20 or more feet along the wires. Only one "bean"—which more resembles a squash—has been pulled from the main stalk, and another one of the curious vegetable freaks is estimated to weigh in the neighborhood of thirty pounds.

Author of "Jack and the Bean Stalk", and those who claim fairy tales are so much tripe, please notice.

CHARLESTON BANK CASHIER RESIGNS: EAST PRAIRIE TO HAVE NEW DEPOSITORY

Charleston August 24.—Talmage F. Cutliph cashier of the First Security State Bank of this city, has resigned his position.

R. E. Redman of Palmyra, Mo., has accepted the position and will assume his duties September 5.

A new bank will be opened in East Prairie, 12 miles south of this city, on September 8. It will be known as the Bank of East Prairie.

Riley Presson of East Prairie, who is at present Assistant Cashier of the First Security State Bank of this city, will probably be cashier of the new bank at East Prairie.

SECOND HANDICAP MATCH SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY

Members of the Sikeston golf club will participate Sunday afternoon in another handicap tournament. The first such match was voted a success last Sunday afternoon with twenty-nine players participating.

Handicaps are determined from previous tournament scores, or from cards turned in during the week. The "free strokes" thus determined tend to even up expert, mediocre and poor shooters, and in reality gove those in the middle and lower bracket an advantage over those who usually head the list.

Tentative plans have been formulated to conduct a elimination club championship tournament in connection with, or following the completion of the present handicap matches.

Players in the lower brackets would still be fortified with their handicaps, but an added trophy indication the championship of the local club would be offered as an inducement to participate.

Michigan tests have shown dried buttermilk effective in counteracting effects of coccidiosis in young chicks.

A purebred Guernsey owned by J. A. Frohock of Inspiration ranch, near Bradenton, Fla., produced 3700 lbs. of milk and more than 160 pounds of butterfat in 65 days.

Animals caused more injuries to farm folk than did machinery, a survey of farm accidents by the Nebraska Press Association indicated. In 19 months 481 cases were attributed to animals and 405 to machinery.

SOME NEW MADRID COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

Milus R. Davis, Co. Supt.

Every teacher should take a county paper. The county where you teach is good enough to feed you, and you should become acquainted with it by reading the local paper.

Our supply of report cards has just been exhausted but we intend to have some more in soon for those who need them.

The colored teachers' meeting was held in New Madrid Saturday and was well attended, 28 teachers being present, which means 100 per cent attendance.

There is a move on foot to extend the educational facilities of the negro above the elementary grades, but such attempts will be futile until the standard of their grade work is elevated considerably. Much money is wasted by employing colored teachers who do not know their eighth grade subjects and will not try to improve their education by daily preparation.

Our teachers' meeting for rural white teachers on August 18 was addressed by C. E. Burton, Robert R. Hill, Roy V. Ellise, Fred Lewallen, C. E. Pepmiller, Dan Tyler, Laura Kornegger, R. M. Stevenson, R. H. Weaks and H. W. McCoy and Mrs. Willa D. Alsup gave us a reading.

We intended to have a round table conference in the afternoon for a full discussion of the year's work, but after the speakers had spent their energy, very little time was left for this part of the program.

Most of the rural teachers have paid their fee to the State Teachers' Association. Teachers in high school districts may join through their local superintendent, and others should send the 2 to the County Superintendent.

Following is a list of those who have already joined together with the name of the district where they are teaching: Ruby Higgs, Cade; Alma Heath, Broadwater; Elizabeth Hoehn, Broadwater; Alice Deane (unemployed); Cecil Hines, Barnes Ridge; Elvena Latimer, O'Bannon; Martha Jo Hart, Dawson; Dan Tyler, Phillips; Homer H. Jones, Boekerton; Mrs. V. A. Lovelace (unemployed); Agnes Littel, Phillips; A. M. Calvert, Kendall; Bernice Davis, Maple Grove; Faustina Davis, New Hope; Vivian Davis, Maple Grove; Phyllis Atwell, Scott; Evelyn Smith, St. Mary; Dora Lee, La Forge; Beryl Liles, Point Pleasant; Agatha Weaks Parks, Walnut Grove; Glenda Waters, York; Floella Wimp, Union Grove; Laura Kornegger, Cross Roads; Rosa Lee Howard, Fairview; Mrs. Andy DeLisle, LaFont; Lela Hollenbeck, Boekerton; Mrs. Anna Tucker, Hough; Willa D. Alsup, Matthews; Frankie Deane, Matthews; Mary Mumma, Gideon; Agatha Mumma, Gideon; Marjorie Anderson, Gideon; Mary Brantley, Portageville; Pearle C. Werner, Canalou; Sadie E. Crites, Parma; Herbert Illers, Kewanee; Hunter Miller, Portageville and Fannie Swilley, Portageville.

The rural teachers received their new State Course of Study at the meeting. Each local superintendent has or will be supplied with a Course of Study for each teacher in his system. This statement is in answer to inquiries received from teachers of high school districts.

You have no idea how many varieties of sardines are to be had at the large grocery stores. There are domestic sardines from California, French sardines with and without bones. Sardines that are both skinless and boneless sardines in oil and sardines in tomato, sardines in tin and in glass, sardines in wine sauce from France. Then there are sardines from Portugal and sardines from Norway, and for sandwiches and appetizers there is sardine paste that comes in glass jars and in tubes.

FRISCO SPONSORS LOW FARE BASEBALL SPECIAL

PORTAGEVILLE MAN SLAIN OVER ALLEGED ATTENTIONS TO THE WIFE OF ANOTHER

Caruthersville, August 25.—Dolph Smith, 55, a farmer, of Linda, Mo., confessed last night, officials here announced today, that he killed Charles Day, 35, of Portageville, at a fishing camp north of here last Friday night and then threw his body into Wolf Bayou. The body was found floating in the bayou Saturday.

Authorities said Smith told them he argued with Day over alleged attentions Day paid to Mrs. Smith. When Day rowed out onto the bayou, Smith followed in another boat and struck him on the head with an oar.

Officials said information upon which Smith was arrested was obtained from Mrs. Smith. Both men were drinking, she said.

Eucador is an exporting country only for the reason that the people of that country have no money with which to buy the products of the nation. Panama hats represent the greatest industry, and while his headgear is eminently adapted for the use of the natives they seem to have very little use for them, and the result is that they find a market in other countries. The other exports of Ecuador are hemp, wool and cotton, fiber shoes and cigars.

Home Furnishings—Our 34th Year in S. E. Mo.

Attention is directed this week to a slight change in heading of our ad. One line reads: "Our 34th year in S. E. Mo." Last week it read "33rd". The mere fact that we had our 33rd. business birthday on the 10th of this month is of little interest to the public. That we have had 33 years' experience as exclusive distributors of home furnishings in this section however may be of some value to prospective furniture buyers. Children and grandchildren of our first patrons are numbered among present day customers. That leads us to believe we may have done a fair job at serving our trade. We have made thousands of mistakes and probably will make a good many more but one sure thing is there will be no misrepresentation of merchandist nor lack of hard work around this store in our efforts to make things go. Our goal is set for a good Fall business and you may be assured we have the ammunition with which to get it else we would not feel so confident. If you have not up to this time been a patron of this store, we invite you to join us in the beginning of "our 34th year in S. E. Mo."

Bargain hunters who may soon be searching for good ranges or heating stoves at a price should see what we have to offer in that line. Twenty or more heaters which have been thoroughly repaired and fitted for good service will be ready now in another week for sale and delivery. Reasonable terms of payment are available on all of them.

And now comes another shipment of neat breakfast sets in various colorings and styles ranging in prices from $15.00 up that are unusually good values. Our source of supply in St. Louis is ever on the lookout for late styles at low cost to consumers. See these sets and you will agree with us.

Good mattresses continue to move out regularly and this week we have some altogether new numbers in fine inner spring models that have not been shown before. Ticks are beautiful and construction absolutely dependable—in fact, a thorough guarantee goes with every one that is just what we say it is or your money will be refunded.

Moore's Circulating Heaters are probably the best known line of strictly quality heaters on the market. They are not low in price—never have been—but they are extremely high in efficiency and satisfaction. The "Gloria" model for 1931 is said to be the prettiest soft coal heater in the country. We are showing this model in two sizes. Time payments are okay.

School days will soon be here. With that in mind we mention a number of solid oak library tables in our used department which will prove dandy for study purposes. We'll sell them for a song.

Boy Scout Round-up And Water Carnival To Be Held

Plans have just about been completed for the Round-Up at Cape Girardeau. Scoutmasters are invited to bring Scouts just as early Friday, September 25 as you wish. Should any of the troops arrive early, provision will be made for a guide to take them through the College Buildings. The registration at booth as last year will be in the Court House Park and all Scouts are urged to regsiter as soon as they arrive in town. Supper will be served beginning at 6 o'clock. Parade to the stadium will probably start at 7 o'clock. Remember, it will be necessary for Scouts to register if they are to be admitted to the game free.

It has been decided that three Honor Troops will be selected, based upon their appearance in the parade. One Honor Troop will be selected from Cape Girardeau, one from the troops of the Southeast Missouri Area outside of Cape and one from the Mineral Area. It is felt that the Cape Girardeau troops would have an unfair advantage if competing with troops that had to travel some distance to get here. Furthermore, we are not anxious to develop any particular competition between the two Areas and hence felt that a separate award for the visiting council would be appropriate.

The program for in between halves has been changed somewhat. As last year, we will have the Shuttle Relay, four men from each troop, each man to run 50 yards and touch off the next runner. The Fire by Friction contest, however, has been dropped, chiefly because it is impossible to conduct it so that the crowd can see what is going on and also because there seems to be a deficiency in Fire by Friction experts. In its place two games or contests will be held. Immediately following the Shuttle Relay there will be a 20-yard Crab race, in which each troop will be allowed to enter two contestants. In running the Crab race, the contestant runs on all 4's, face up. The third contest will be a Cock Fight. Directions for this may be found on Page 353 of the Scoutmasters Hand Book. All the Scouts present may participate in the Cock Fight.

Area Swim Meet

The Sikeston Scouts will be hosts of the Area at a Water Carnival in the Sikeston Pool Labor Day, September 7 at 2 o'clock p. m. The Scouts are to have exclusive use of the Pool during the meet and all registered Scouts of Southeast Missouri Council invited to participate. A cup will be awarded the winning troop to be held for one year and ribbons will be presented at the meeting of the Sikeston Court of Honor which will be held the night of the meet. Wilbur Ensor, Deputy Commissioner and the Red Cross Life Saving Examiner, will be in charge of the Carnival. Rules of the meet are:

There will be two classes:

Class A—Scouts weighing 130 lbs. or over.

Class B—Scouts weighing less than 130 lbs.

Where their ability permits, Scouts in Class B weight classification may enter the Class A events providing they do not participate in Class B events.

Only registered Scouts under 18 years of age may participate.

Each Scout may participate in not more than 3 contests besides the Relay.

Five places will be awarded points —5-4-3-2-1, but ribbons will go to winners of only the first three places.

Entries must be in the hands of Carnival Officials by 1 o'clock the day of the meet. Scoutmasters should mail them as soon as possible to W. E. Hollingsworth, Sikeston, Mo.

The events will be the same for both classes.

The winning troop will be determined by totaling points won in both classes.

Coming Events

ALL EMPLOYES OF FORD IN 1932 MUST HAVE OWN GARDENS

Detroit, August 24.—Impressed by the idea that there was no use trying to help a man who didn't help himself by raising a garden, Henry Ford announced Saturday that next year every man in his employ would be required to have a garden.

"Next year", he said, "every man with a family will be required to have a garden of sufficient size to supply his family with at least a part of its winter's vegetable or he will find himself out of a job.

The cmopany will provide land for those who have no backyards and instruction for those who can't pull weeds after working in the factory.

The decision of Ford came after he visited the co-operative gardens at Iron Mountain in the northern section of the State, where he has purchased thousands of acres of land.

In an interview the automobile magnate said:

"The man who is too indolent to work in a garden in his leisure time is not deserving of a job. Instead of waiting for the moratorium to perform miracles, the people of the United States should begin to help themselves".

398 FEET OF HODAG IS FOUND BY ARIZONIAN

Stony Ford, Ariz.—Fossilized remains of a hodag (glyptomeridon giganta) were discovered recently in Red canyon by Seth Bailey, a prospector.

The skeleton, Bailey said, measured 398 feet, nine inches, from tail to tail. The hodag was a curious animal of the pleistocene age; it had two tails, one at each end, with a head in the middle. It was subject to colds in the head and when it sneezed the earth cracked, resulting in the canyons so common in the desert country.

Unlike other mammoths, the hodag had square corners. All of its bones were square and some of the smaller ones were used in early days for bars in pioneer saloons.

The animal died out through the attacks of mosquitoes. Being square, it was unable to roll in the sand and rid itself of the pests and was so annoyed that it committed suicide.

BRAGGADOCIO GETS FIRST COTTON OF THE SEASON AGAIN

Caruthersille Democrat Argus, August 25.—The first load of cotton to be reported picked and marketed this season was taken to Braggadocio yesterday and sold to the Ward-Coppage Gin, arriving there about 11:30 Monday morning. It weighed 1670 pounds and was brought in by Mr. Dye from the Earl Long farm a few miles from the town and was of the Early Trice variety.

This is at least the second or third year when the honor of producing the first bale has gone to the Long land and the distinction of its purchase to the Ward-Coppage interests at Braggadocio. While we are not informed as to the price paid, we understand that a very nice premium was paid Mr. Dye by the ginning firm.

Mr. Coppage states that this load of cotton is not a premature affair, such as sometimes is the case where the staple opens early on a sandy spot, being forced out ahead of the bulk of the crop, but that the bolls are opening rapidly and it will likely not be long until picking will be well under way in that vicinity. It is also a matter of note in this connection that Mr. Dye also reported the first cotton blossom in his section of the county.

GIVE UP ATTEMPT TO ROB WICKLIFFE BANK

Wickliffe, Ky.—After failing in an attempt to blow a safe in the Citizen's State Bank here last night, burglars acknowledged defeat by printing 'you win" in large letters on the safe door, and took their departure. No trace has been found of them. An acetylene torch was used. The men left no clues in the bank, which they entered through a side window. Smoke still hung in the vault when officials opening the bank for business this morning discovered the attempt.

A packing plant devoted exclusively to the preparation of rabbit meat has been established in Chicago.

CANNING DEMONSTRATIONS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Miss Flora Lee Carr of the College of Agriculture, held two canning demonstrations last week, the first sponsored by the Neighborhood Women's Club at Morley. This was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Emerson. The members of the new Morley 4-H Canning Club were also present.

At Salcedo a similar meetting was held and arranged by Mrs. Hez Ozment. At each of these meetings the hot water bath method and the steam pressure method was demonstrated. Many present stated that they were having trouble with canned corn. Miss Carl in most instances found that they had not precooked the corn. Others failed to get their corn in cans in less than two hours, and that many had tried canning the corn after it was past the roasting ear stage. She suggested that corn that had goten out of the roasting ear stage should be dried for good keeping.

The Salcedo group attempted to start a Canning 4-H Club within this next week as several girls have expressed interest.

GIRL BITTEN BY DOG TAKES TETANUS SHOTS

Anti-tetanus serum is being administered to Mary Ann Johnson, 4-year-od daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson of this city, bitten by a Spitz dog last Thursday afternoon at the J. J. Reiss farm. Mary Ann and her brother, Jimmie, 7 years old, accompanied their father to the Reiss orchard last Thursday to get peaches, when the child was attacked by the small dog.

The usual procedure of sending the dog's head to Jefferson City for examination has not been followed, but the anti-rabies treatment is being given as a necessary precaution.

Death of One, Fortune Tellers And Attempted Robbery Enter The Johnson Parrot Case

A brief news story last Tuesday informed Standard readers that one green, very talkative polly parrot had been stolen while the five families who live in the converted mansion were away—a state of affairs odd in itself, according to members of the Malone family.

Neighbors were interviewed by Mrs. Johnson, who had become very much attached to her green polly. From them she obtained information which pointed first to the posibility that gypsy families might have paid an unannounced call, for it was from such travelers that she obtained the bird.

Then came information which pointed more definitely to one person, a man who had been seen prowling about Sunday afternoon. A description was obtained.

Tuesday, Mrs. Johnson visited a fortune teller, a negress, who presides over the cards and other paraphernalia incident to the seers art, in Sunsete Addition.

"You've lost something", were the words which greeted Mrs. Johnson. Then followed a thumbing of cards. "I see chickens, and you'll get your article back. A man whose name begins with "J" will play a part in the recovery". And with that the interview with the powers that preside over cards and crystal balls, was over.

The following night, O. M. Headlee, city marshal of Morehouse, called Clyde Hubbard to halt, following the theft of chickens from a Morehouse cafe. Hubbard refused to comply. He dropped, however, as with a dull thud, a shotgun charge struck him in the back and neck.

A tip to the Malone family here stated that the late Frosty was the one who had removed Polly from the Malone house, and that the bird would be found, safe and sound, with a farmer living north of Morehouse. John R. Malone returned with polly—a bob-tailed polly now—trussed up in a cardboard box.

'Ho, ho, ho, Earl Johnson" was the greeting of the green talkative bird as he peered cockeyed from his narrow make-shift cage upon arrival at home.

Members of the family have pieced together a plausible explanation of the whole affair. Frosty had entered the five-apartment mansion with the intention of robbery or theft. Polly probably screamed or created some disturbance which led him to grab the bird—and here's where polly loses her tail feathers—and make a hasty exit. Hubbard, if he was the visitor, took the basement door key with him, to affect an easier entrance the next time, and hurried away to deposit the bird with a farmer friend.

Polly is again with friends, but Frosty will never come back.

'OH! PROFESSOR' TO BE GIVEN SEPT. 2

The home-talent production, "Oh! Professor", auspices Sikeston Lions Club, will be presented Wednesday night, September 2 at the high school auditorium, curtain at 8 o'clock.

An announcement made last week stated that the play would be presented on Thursday evening, but the date has been moved forward one day. Miss Billy Ruth Sears of Atlanta, Ga., is directing.

A cast of ten and chorus members numbering about 35 has been hard at work since last Monday night learning the manuscript, songs and plain and fancy steps. Rehearsals are being held in the Young building on Malone Avenue.

Major characters in the musical comedy college sketch include: Louis Walker as Steve Crandall, Kemper Bruton, the professor; Miss Billy Ruth Sears, as Senorita May, 'late of the Ziegfeld Follies"; Benny Topper as the Chink, Cornelia Randol, Mrs. Bumboard; Bob Nicholson as Dave Davis, Art Wallhausen as Dave's brother Bob, Catherine Ann Cook as Avonelle, and Emanual Schorle as the big, burly policeman.

Three chorus numbers will be featured including twelve tiny tots, a mixed chorus of twelve boys and girls, and another composed of eight very striking local beauties.

Miss Lillian Rita Derris will spend the week-end with Miss Anna Frances Willingham at Cairo.

The Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the Methodist church and the Gleaners' Class of the Methodist Church are entertaining with a lawn party at the home of Mrs. E. J. Keith Friday evening.

L. R. BOWMAN ENTERS HOLE-IN-ONE CLUB

Sikeston has one member in that exclusive fraternity of golfers known as the "Hole-in-one" Club. He is none other than Lyman Bowman who last Monday afternoon accomplished what no other golfer on the local links had been able to accomplish in the six-year history of the Sikeston club . . . he sunk out a shot on No. 7, a 141-yard hole in one.

The fete is attested by L. M. Stallcup, C. L. Malone and Orville Lumsden, members of the foursome.

We have heard much of the Becker-Brunk combination in Jefferson City, but occasionally we find a Republican officer willing to lay aside political considerations in order to do his duty to his constituents. Tre action of Attorney General Shartel in signing quo warranto proceedings for Sikeston in the face fo strong opposition, political, leagl and private, is to be highly commended. The Republican party might do worse than consider in Shartel sound material from which governors are made.

A report of many petty burglaries last week-end is current. Mention is made of attempts to enter the Dr. J. A. Hess home, the Laundry, Taylor Auto Company, Energy Coal Company and others. Only in one instance were officers able to give an intelligent report—in the Energy Coal Company case. We do not believe our officers are trying to "keep things out of the papers", but we do believe that a little more co-operation between citizens and officers might lead to the capture of the burglar or burglars. Report all thefts at once upon discovery. If that legal procedure does not do the trick, citizens will be forced to shoot first and ask questions and make reports later provided they catch a night visitor in the act of breaking in. Funerals have a way all their own of settling minor differences over property rights.

SURVEY INDICATES HOOVER CAN'T WIN

A national survey just completed by the Scripps-Howard newspapers indicate that Herbert Hoover is certain to be renominated; that the naming of some other man would be much more satisfactory to many Republicans; that there is little prospect for Hoover's re-election. There are now 25 newspapers in the Scripps-Howard chain, among them the New York World-Telegram. In 1928 the newspapers supported Hooer; now they are vigorously opposing him.

The renomination of Hoover is certain, the survey shows, because he controls, through patronage, enough delegates to go into the convention with a majority. There is also an element in the party which clings to the idea that a first-term President must be renominated.

But there is strong opposition to Hoover within his own organization. This opposition is disgusted with Hoover and his blundering and is favorable to the nomination of Dwight Morrow, of New Jersey, recently elected to the Senate, or Calvin Coolidge. An Eastern man, said to have raised much money for the Republican war chest in past years, is quoted as having made the statement that the nomination could be taken away from Hoover 'if we had a million dollars to make the fight".

Despite party antagonism to the President, it is found that there is no real movement under way to prevent his renomination. It is considered probable that some favorite-son voting will be done by various State delegation, but that Hoover will be the strong candidate and be named on an early ballot.

The likelihood of the re-election of Hoover appears to be very slim. So far as the South is concerned, it is found to have returned to its traditional party alignment, and every State below the Mason and Dixon line will be for the Democratic candidate, whoever he may be. The border States evidently will go Democratic, too. These include Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Maryland and Missouri. So far as Tennessee and Oklahoma are concerned, they are strongly Democratc. The other three States are closed under nomal conditions, but are found now to be determined on a change of Administration.

New England, which has been very hard hit by the industrial depression, is said to be headed for the Democratic column. Al Smith carried Massachusetts and Rhode Island; next year Connecticut may be found on the roster of Democratic States.

There is decisive evidence that Ohio will go Democratic by 200,000 and that Illinois and Indiana will follow suit. While the survey does not make mention of Minnesota reliable reports reaching Kansas City are that the State is lost to the Republicans.

In what the survey terms the "Southwest" there is growing disaffection due to the collapse of agriculture and mineral markets.

Ray Tucker, Washington correspondent of the World-Telegram, says: "With Southern border and Northeast States listing toward the Democrats, if only in protest against the Administration, this lineup gives the minority sufficient electoral votes to win"—it being conceded that "New York is lost to the G. O. P."

In Kansas City political observers believe the Democrats will carry many of the States west of the Mississippi. The two Dakotas and Nebraska have lost faith in the President, reports indicate, and the Democrats are expected to carry Montana, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico. Wyoming may also go against Hoover. Smith lost Utah by a very narrow margin; observers declare Roosevelt would carry it.

There is great interest here in the probable course of Kansas and Iowa in the next election. Chairman Mitchell, of the Iowa Democratic Committee, wrote to Chairman Howell, of the Missouri Democratic Committee, a few weeks ago to say that Iowa would go Democratic in 1932. Kansas politicians are sure their State will go against Hoover. In some of the counties polls have actually been taken and they show that Hoover has completely lost standing. A remark common with corn belt Republicans, "If the Democrats nominate Roosevelt, I'll vote for him".

Democratic success in any event seems assured. If there is no economic improvement, the election will be a landslide for the Democrats, if there is improvement, Hoover may make a somewhat better showing. But it appears to be certain that the next President will be a Democrat, and that he will have a friendly Congress by a large majority.—Kansas City Star.

CLUB WOMEN RECLAIM VALUABLE FURNITURE

Refinishing and otherwise renovating shabby, discarded furniture has been stimulated in many States thru demonstration work in home improvement. Innumerable old tables and other pieces have been scraped and refinished, chairs and sofas have been reupholstered, chairs recaned or provided with new rush bottoms, and many other articles of furniture redeemed and improved for continued use.

Many interesting reports on this work have come to the United States Department of Agriculture. A home-demonstration agent in Kentucky writes: "One woman went to her meat house and hauled out an oval table that the men had been using as a meat block. One could not tell what the wood was and the top was fearfully hacked where they had chopped the meat on it. The owner scraped the top with glass, taking off at least a quarter of an inch of the wood to smooth the top. It was a beautiful piece of very old furniture; an oval-shaped end of a set of dining-room tables. It was beautifully inlaid".

In another case, in South Carolina, all the pulpit furniture of one of the local churches was refinished and reupholstered by some of the women in the community home-demonstration club They removed the paint from the three pulpit chairs with a strong lye solution and then rubbed them smooth with steel wool. The chairs were then refinished. The old upholstery material was taken off the chairs and new tapestry put on. This was finished off with braid. The Bible stand, two pedestals, and table were rubbed with steel wool until smooth and then refinished to match the chairs. The women even refinished the rail around the altar. The total cost was $10.19.

PUBLIC LOAN CORPORATION APPOINTS ROLAND BUSCH

Announcement has been made by the officials of the Public Loans Corporation, with offices in the H. & H. Building, that Roland G. Busch, will be the new Treasurer, and manager of the Company.

The Public Loan Corporation engages in the personal finance business, lending money under the supervision of the State Banking Department.

Mr. Busch, who has been residing sometime with his family in Cape Girardeau, in a recent interview, gave assurances that the same friendly treatment which has been accorded many customers of the company, will be continued.

Mr. Busch takes the place of Geo. A. Biedermann, who has been promoted to the managership of the company's Sedalia office.

"FREE PHOTO" SCHEME IS BAIT TO BUY FRAME

Agents are calling at the doors of many homes asking the housewife to select one of the envelopes which she holds in her hand. "If you draw one containing a lucky number", she says, "you will be entitled to a photograph enlarged and beautifully colored FREE".

The joker in this scheme is that most all of the envelopes contain lucky numbers.

If the scheme runs true to form, you will be called upon a few days later by another agent who will show you a proof of the enlargement of your photograph and ask you to select and purchase a frame for it. He will show you the coupon which you have signed and which contains some very fine printed matter in which you have agreed to buy a frame for the photograph. The frame is what you pay for.

There are many variations of the purpose of all of them is to sell picture enlargements scheme. The frames. The enlargement may be technically free, but this selling plan is an example and proof of the fact that you seldom get 'something for nothing'. Do not be misled by a trick or subterfuge.

Many of these schemes involve questionable selling methods.

Shartel Signs Ouster Suit For City Against Utilities Company

A telegram received by Roger Bailey, city attorney Thursday morning, stated "Sikeston Petition signed and filed this morning", signed, Shartel, Attorney General.

In other words, Shartel had courage eonugh to disregard considerable pressure brought to bear by Utilities interests to set aside the ouster suit in favor of a local city ballot on the proposition. The Attorney General's office went so far as to give the Utility Company a public hearing on August 19, at which petitions directed to the City Council and to the Attorney General were presented asking that no official recognition be taken of the proposed ouster suit, and suggestion again for a vote of the people to decide whether or not the Missouri Utilities Company was to remain in Sikeston, or forced to withdraw equipment and cease serving consumers of electric power.

As the matter now stands the City of Sikeston has filed with the Missouri Supreme Court a writ in quo warranto, to determine whether or not Sikeston is to have a municipal monopoy on the electric light and power business, and whether or not the Utilities Company will be allowed to remain as a competitor without a franchise.

LIONS RECEIVE INTERNATIONAL RECOGNITION

In a letter just received from Melvin Jones, Founder and Secretary-General of Lions International, the local Lions Club was commended on the work which they accomplished during the past year. Mr. Jones states that, in his annual report to the International Convention of Lions Clubs, which was held in Toronto, Canada, last month, he was happy to be able to include and give recognition to the part the local Lions Club played in the Associations' program of Service.

The record of their service, as taken directly from Mr. Jones' report to the Convention, is as follows:

Sikeston—Sponsored a Yard and Garden beautification contest for one year. Entertained delegates to the Osteopaths' convention in Sikeston. Co-operated with other organizations in planting trees along highway. Staged a community Christmas tree for underprivileged children of city, and had a Santa Claus to distribute treats to all children. Bought sixty chickens for the Christmas hampers prepared by various churches for destitute families. Sponsored a theatre performance to raise funds for Christmas charitable work. Solicited donations for Red Cross drought relief fund. Contributed $25 towards support of public library. Sponsored troop of Boy Scouts. Entertained all school teachers of Sikeston. Met in joint session with Chamber of Commerce. Eight membership reports received.

An accurate record of activities is maintained at Internationl Headquarters which shows that, during the past year, 16,625 activities have been reported by the 2500 clubs in the Asosciation. These activities have been reported by the 2500 clubs in the Association. These activities have for the most part fallen under the following general classifications: Blind Work, Boys' Work, Child Welfare, Cithizenship, Civic Improvement, Co-operation with other agencies, Education, Farm Work, Public Welfare and Safety.

Presumably because of the increasing need for service work today, 3,108 more activities were reported for the past year than have ever been reported before.

ENERGY STATION BURGLARY COVERED BY INSURANCE

An example of modern efficiency in the adjustment of claims on burglary insurance is cited by John Powell, local representative of the Aetna Company.

The Energy Oil Station safe was badly battered by would-be burglars last Saturday night. Although the safe artists failed to gain entrance they did succeed in breaking the combination knob and door handle.

A wire to headquarters Sunday was answered in person Monday morning by A. E. Linzel, safe expert who brought about $1000 worth of equipment and tools.

Workmen at Hahs' Machine Works were called in by Mr. Linzel to weld the broken door, after which he installed a new combination entirely. Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the safe was returned to the oil station and Thursday morning a check arrived to pay for all damages.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Johnson of Akron, Ohio are expected Sunday for a visit with the former's brother, Earl Johnson and wife.

J. W. SWAIM DIES AT ORAN TUESDAY

J. W. Swaim, father of Al Swaim of this city, succumbed Tuesday at the age of 76 years, 10 months and 9 days. For the past several years he had been making his home with his son, Pate, of Oran, where he died. He had been in failing health since May.

Mr. Swaim was born in Murry, Ky., September 26, 1854. He was married when 22 years old to Miss Sallie Edward Utterback of Kentucky. To this union were born eleven children, seven of whom survive. They are Walter, Pate of Oran, Dick of Cape Girardeau, Rufus of Riverside, California, Mrs. Maggie Lusk and Mrs. Sallie Davis, also of California.

Following the death of his first wife about twenty-two years ago, he married Miss Ellis Mise, of this State, who survives. To this union were born two children, Guy and Mae Swaim, both of Cape Girardeau.

Funeral services were held in the Morley Methodist church Thursday, August 27 at 2 o'clock with interment in Morley Cemetery.

NEW W. B. A. PRESIDENT TO BE GIVEN CHARTER SEPT. 13

The regular meeting of the W. B. A. was held in the I. O. O. F. Hall Monday night, August 24.

It was decided to present the Charter to the new prseident, Mrs. Ben Ritter, at the next regular meeting, September 13. Guard practice will be held at the I. O. O. F. Hall Wednesday afternoon, September 2 and 9. All guards be present as this practice is very important.

The fraternity pin was won by Mrs. Irene Walker of Sikeston for the month of August. A pin is given each month to lucky member whose name is drawn. The Westway Club reported a nice meeting at the home of Mrs. Ruby Marshall.

Will meet with Mrs. Roy Waggner on Greer avenue, September 2.

CONNER BEATS WHITE IN MISSISSIPPI VOTE

Jackson, Miss., August 26.—Hugh White, candidate for the Democratic nomination as Governor of Mississippi in yesterday's run-off primary, conceded the election to his opponent, Martin Sennett (Mike) Conner, today, and telegraphed his congratulations.

Conner, a lawyer and farmer of Covington County, held the lead over White, a millionaire lumberman, from the time the first returns were received.

A tabulation of 264,019 votes, with complete returns from 47 counties, today gave Conner 140,911 votes and White 123,108.

The Democratic nomination in Mississppi is tantamount to election. Conner faces two tasks—wiping out of a $7,000,000 deficit in the State Tuesday left by Gov. Bilbo's administsation, and reinstatement of four of the State's major educational institutions that were dropped by accrediting associations.

Mrs. Moore Greer entertained Charleston frineds Tuesday afternoon.

We are srory to report Miss Nellie Rankin quite ill at her home on North Ranney Street from a severe attack of rheumatism. She has been absent from the telephone office for two weeks, but friends trust she will soon be able to resume her duties.

SEDUCTION CASE LEADS TO SHOOTING

William Farrow, 50 years old, farmer near Buckeye, east of Sikeston, was lodged in the Mississippi County jail last Thursday, facing charges of carrying a pistol, shooting with intent to kill, and being drunk, following an altercation with Cecil Stanfil, Charleston youth, over alleged improper relations with Farrow's daughter.

According to the report of a special representative of The Standard, Farrow entered the Smith and Ault Hardware Store last Thursday evening and asked to see young Stanfil, who happened to be out just then. Farrow, it is alleged, had been drinking. Stanfil entered the store after a few minutes and Farrow immediately grabbed him by his throat and arm. After shoving a pistol into his ribs, Farrow marched Stanfil out of the store and upstairs to the offices of Dr. Marshall. The latter, and another physician, who also has rooms in the building, was out so that no one witnessed the ensuing fight. The bullet from Farrow's gun grazed Stanfil's ear, and lodged in the walls of the doctor's office, where it was later recovered by officers.

Ike Smith, owner of the Smith-Ault Company, notified officers of the trouble as soon as Farrow and Stanfil left the building. Owen Cook constable and city policeman, responded and succeeded in taking the gun from Farrow and escorting the farmer to jail.

The case of State vs. Stanfil is set for hearing in the Scott County Circuit Court today (Thursday), but a postponement is predicted by followers of the case, who claim Miss Farrow, mother of a son born August 16, will be unable to attend.

PARTY STAGED BY TWO ILLINOIS WOMEN LANDS BOTH IN POLICE COURT

Mrs. Loretta Leitch and sister, Miss Hester Ginger, both of Harrisburg, Ill., pleaded guilty in police court Wednesday afternoon to charges of reckless driving and paid fines and costs aggregating $44.00.

An agreement was reached between the women and F. F. Trousdale, of this city, leading to the reimbursement of the latter in the amount of $41, which Trousdale claimed was obtained by the women during a "party" the night previous. Trousdale then agreed to drop charges of drunkenness and of resisting an officer previously filed against the Illinois visitors.

Mrs. Leitch and Miss Ginger claim they were visiting relatives in Morehouse, and stopped at the Trousdale filling station Thursday evening to have their car serviced.

The filling station operator then joined the party wheih drove to the nearby city. During the evening one of the ladies displayed a revolver when she thought an arresting officer was a holdup man.

O. M. Headlee, City marshal, of Morehouse, fired at the car in that city while attempting to halt the machine. About 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning Toots Nall drove to Morehouse, brought the party back to Sikeston, and held jewelry, car and a revolver in lieu of a cash bond for appearance of Mrs. Leith and her sister in police court that afternoon.

FINDS OLD RING

C. U. Harwell, who resides near Three Springs community north of Poplar Bluff, found a gold band wedding ring in the ruins of a fire which destroyed the Eli Lax home, in that community recently. The ring was dated January 28, 1880, and had the words "Orve to Rose". Harwell believes the ring is valued highly by someone, and he is willing to turn it over to the owner.

CHARLESTON WOMAN FATALLY INJURES ANOTHER IN WRECK

From the American Republic, Poplar Bluff, August 24.—Injuries suffered when she was struck by an automobile at Fisk last Sunday, caused the death at 3:30 this morning of Mrs. Sarah Frances Adams, aged 47, wife of James N. Adams of Fisk.

Mrs. Adams was hit by an automobile driven by Mrs. Vera Stotts, a widow, of Charleston. The accident occurred where the side road leads to the Missouri Pacific station in Fisk, at about 6 p. m.

The well known Fisk woman was going with Miss Mary Louise Jordan to the Jordan home to get some milk, when the Chevrolet coupe, driven by Mrs. Stotts came along. When Mrs. Stotts sounded her horn, Mrs. Adams hesitated, slightly, according to witnesses, and then tried to jump out of the way. She was struck by the right fender of the automobile and hurled some distance from the pavement.

Narrowly Escaped

Miss Jordan narrowly escaped being struck by the car when she ran out of the way, according to those who witnessed the tragic accident.

Mrs. Stotts stopped her automobile as quickly as possible, and later one of the tires went flat, with a nail in it. Whether the tire was responsible for her losing control of the car is indefinite.

Immediately after the accident the injured woman was taken to the Jordan home and a physician called from Poplar Bluff. When her condition was found to be critical, an ambulance was called and she was brought to the Poplar Bluff hospital here.

Had Visited Father

Mrs. Stotts had been to Williamsville where she spent the day with her father, B. F. Young, who is agent for the Frisco railroad there. Her mother died some few months ago, it was explained. She was alone in the car, which was traveling about 30 miles an hour, when the accident occurred.

Witnesses to the accident, according to information obtained by the American Republic, said it was merely an accident in which no one could be blamed. Mrs. Stotts, it is said, had been driving about 30 miles an hour for some distance. Motorists who were trailing her along the highway, said she had maintained that speed for severa miles.

Highly Nervous

Mrs. Stotts was highly nervous as result of the tragic accident. She was taken to the homes of friends in Fisk, and later resumed her trip to Charleston.

Mrs. Adams was well known and had many friends in Fisk and vicinity. The entire town today was enveloped in a pall of sorrow as result of the tragedy.

Surviving are the husband, three children, Byron, Avon and Velva, two grandchildren, a brother, James Hopkins and mother, Mrs. Florence Hopkins, all of Fisk.

ROUND TRIP BIRMINGHAM TO SIKESTON TAKES 12 HOURS

J. C. DeHoll, president and H. I. Bliss, assistant secretary-treasurer of a Birmingham, Ala., banking concern, flew from that city to Sikeston, viewed some 902 acres of farm land controlled by the corporation near here, and were home again in time for 6:00 o'clock dinner in Birmingham.

C. F. Bruton supervises farming operations on the 902-acre tract and accompanied Mr. DeHoll and Mr. Bliss on their round of inspection. The bankers picked peaches about 12 o'clock, and later informed Mr. Bruton that the fruit was served that evening for dinner.

DeHoll and Bliss expressed the opinion that "Southeast Missouri was one of the finest agricultural sections in the United States".

STODDARD COUNTY HAS DISPLAY AT STATE FAIR

Sedalia, August 26.—From Southeast Missouri the Stoddard County display featuring corn, cotton, soybeans and cowpeas has been prepared by E. C. O'Neal of Bloomfield and J. Mothersbaugh of Dexter. This county is also entered in the county fruit display, as well as cottou, tobacco, legumes and potatoes. The entire picture shows the opportunities of Southeast Missouri.

GUARDSMEN RETURN FROM CAMP SUNDAY

Fifty-five enlisted men and two officers comprising Company K, 140th Infantry National Guard, returned Sunday afternoon from a two weeks' annual encampment at Nevada, Mo. Approximately 500 persons were waiting at the Missouri Pacific depot here Sunday evening at 5:00 o'clock when the guardsmen returned.

The men broke camp, were mustered out and paid Saturday afternoon. Company K entrained Saturday night about 10 o'clock and arrived here at 5:10 the following afternoon.

The entire camp period cost Uncle Sam approximately $164,000 and accomodated about 3000 men, including the 138th and 140th Infantry, the 110th Engineers and 35th Brigade Tank Company. Of this amount, approximately $81,000 was expended in payröll, and $83,000 for transportation, food and incidental camp expenses. Company K officers and men drew about $1400 Sunday afternoon.

Following is a list of men who qualified in the record firing August 17 and 18:

Expert: Capt. R. R. Reed, Lt. Wade L. Shankle, and Sgt. Guy R. Weekley.

Sharpshooter: Sgt. Sgt. Robert E. Atkinson, Sgt. Lewis A. Tippy, Pvt. James H. Bennett.

WORKMAN PLUNGES CITY INTO DARKNESS BY CUTTING CABLE FOR TREE ROOT

All series-connected white way lamps in the business district failed to light last Monday evening at the proper time. Calls began sifting in to the plant and office.

About an hour afterwards, trouble shooters for the city plant found the trouble. A workman digging a curb trench at the postoffice building site on New Madrid Street, had whacked a foot length of cable and cast it aside thinking it was part of the root system of a nearby tree.

LOCAL COURT DOCKET CROWDED FOR THURSDAY

The case of U. J. Boyer of New Madrid, charged with reckless driving, has been continued from last Thursday to September 3. Boyer, taxi driver from New Madrid, collided with an ice truck operated by Floyd Porter in this city.

Louis King, colored, will face charges of reckless driving next Thursday, September 3. King, it is alleged by Ralph Durham, failed to signal when he turned directly in the path of the latter, causing a serious accident last Saturday north of Sikeston. A bond of $300 for the appearance of King was signed by J. W. Marshall.

Essex Richmond, negro, is in the County jail at Benton awaiting on September 3 on charges disturbing the peace of Clark Neil, negro, living near Salcedo. Neil alleges that Richmond fired a shot into his home last Saturday using a revolver. After his arrest Richmond denied any connection with the affair, and denied also having a gun. Officers found a revolver strapped to his leg below the knee, a number of shells in one pocket and the cartridge chamber in the other.

Charges of seduction against Elmer Nickens and of incendarism against Carl Johnson are still pending. No date has been set for a hearing in either case.

YOUTH WHO ENDED OWN LIFE BURIED AT MORLEY

Homer Atherton, who died by his own hand at Memphis, Tenn., August 23, was born at Morley, March 20, 1897, the son of Richard and Mary Butler Atherton.

At one time his father was one of the biggest farmers in Scott County, but died in 1903, leaving the widow with eight children to rear. Black, the second son died in 1909 and the following still survive. Charley of Charleston, Roy of Memphis, Dick of Chicago, Mrs. A. M. Adams, Mrs. J. M. Stowe and Ileen of Morley. Funeral was held Tuesday at the Baptist church with Rev. D. M. Margraves in charge and burial in Morley cemetery in the family lot.

PORTAGEVILLE 4-H CLUBS HOLD ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

Two 4-H Sewing Clubs at Portageville held their very interesting Achievement Day last Saturday afternoon at the home of the leader, Mrs. Pearl H. Wilson. The younger club was composed of a group of 13 girls from New Madrid County and the second year club was composed of five grils from Pemiscot County.

A very interesting program was held by the members followed by short talks by Mrs. Wilson, Extension Agent Scott M. Julian, and Extension Agent M. D. Amburgey, and Mrs. Kate Bandy, who has been helping Mrs. Wilson with the club work.

Five 4-H Club girls from Matthews chaperoned by Mrs. Clifford Sutton were visitors.

The display was quite remarkable, many very wonderful garments, including dresses having been made out of flour sacks at very little expense.

Following the program, watermelons were served and following that a smothered chicken supper with French fried potatoes and much other food was enjoyed by all.

WADE SHANKLE TAKES JOB AS WEIGHT OFFICER

Wade L. Shankle has received notice of his appointment to the position of Weight Officer in Division 10, recently vacated by Clarence Weekley. Shankle assumes his new responsibilities September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Martin are entertaining with a dinner party Thursday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brenton.

EAST PRAIRIE MAN ENDS LIFE WITH A PISTOL

Jerry T. Wheatley, 41, of East Prairie, committed suicide by shooting himself through the right temple beneath a tree a mile and a half south of Cache on Route 150 about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

A head injury received four years ago when Wheatley fell from an office window is believed to have affected his mind. His body was discovered by Mark Pearman, superintendent of the county farm, who was returning to the farm from Cairo in his car. Pearman first thought a Chevrolet sedan he observed beside the road had become disabled. He stopped to investigate and fonnd the dead man lying nearby, a 38-caliber revolver still clutched in his hand, and a bullet wound in his temple.

Wheatley was known in the Miller City and Olive Branch areas where he had worked this season with a threshing outfit. He had sent a telegram at Olive Branch at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon to Undertaker Ted Shelby at East Prairie, saying:

"Tell my wife I was last seen in Olive Branch. Watch for my body".

Apparently Wheatley drove directly from Olive Branch in the Chevrolet sedan to the spot where he shot himself, after writing a letter to his little daughter.

Wheatley had $39 in his pockets when he killed himself, and apparently had no pressing financial difficulties.

The inquest was held by Coroner Dan Sullivan Tuesday night at the funeral home of E. A. Burke. A verdict of suicide was returned. The jury was composed of the following men: Edgar Stephens, Harry Eichoff, S. W. Shoemaker, J. C. McClarry, A. W. Hildboldt and C. M. Costley.

Wheatley's family was notified and his body turned over to Undertaker Shelby, to whom he had addressed the telegram at Olive Branch.

BEN HUR DELEGATE WELL PLEASED WITH CAMP TRIP

Mrs. A. Weigandt, delegate from the Skeston Chapter to the Ben Hur encampment on Lake Taneycoma from August 16 to 23 is ready to back up her claim that the pleasure and rest camp is the finest in the State.

The encampment is held annually expenses paid for members of that order who obtain at least seven new members. Next year, says Mrs. Weigandt, it is planned to have their own cabins at the resort or nearby. Plans call also for the establishment of a hunting lodge to accommodate men during the Fall and Winter hunting season, and during the Spring and Summer fishing season.

TIME TO PLANT FALL GARDEN SAYS FURRY

Scott County Farm Bureau office, Benton, August 27.—Fall gardens are as valuable as spring gardens and easier to tend. At this late date we can plant spinach for use until after frost (can even dry spinach leaves to use in the winter). Fall spinach and mustard are two late planted crops that can go into frost and in some cases of mild winter such as we had last winter will go through the winter.

The White Strasburg radish is an excellent one to plant now for Fall use. For a "winter" radish the Chinese Red and Black Spanish may be planted. They get good about frost time and under average conditions are almost a foot long and an inch in thickness and of a good texture.

Kale is another plant for greens that does well as this time of the year. Carrots of an early maturing variety will normally mature by frost time as well as an early variety of beets. Our old friend turnip is now ready to plant for Fall and the leaves of the turnip may be used in connection with spinach or mustard for making the greens taste better.

Chinese cabbage may yet be planted and make a go. Bush Lima beans stringless, greenpod beans or Golden Wax beans still have a chance under normal conditions to mature by frost time.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stein and Miss Kathryn Stein of Cape Girardeau and Miss Dorothy Sheppard of St. Louis spent a few hours in this city Wednesday evening, visiting the J. N. Sheppard family.

YOUTHFUL CHICKEN THIEF IS CAUGHT

Henry Orville Anderson, 23 years old, was picked up Thursday morning about 6 o'clock and held on charges of stealing chickens from the Harvey Baker farm, 8 miles south of Sikeston. Anderson claims to live on Highway 62 near Risco, and readily confessed stealing the birds. He had eleven fryers Thursday morning, and when caught was waiting at the door of the Goodwin Poultry House. He admitted also robbing the same roost three weeks ago, taking eight of Mr. Baker's chickens. They were disposed of in Sikeston.

Deputy Constable Toots Nall was called about 6 o'clock Thursday morning and found the young man waiting, sack in hand, for the poultry house doors to open.

Nall and Constable Brown Jewell took Anderson to New Madrid that same morning to face charges.

SAFE CRACKERS BUNGLE A JOB

A good workman deserves good tools, is an old adage, and in the case of the Energy Oil Station robbery last Sunday night proved its truth.

Would-be burglars gained entrance to the Highway 60 station by forcing a window. Then with an old spring leaf from an automobile, a large sledge with a short handle, and an old screw driver, the burglers managed to knock away the combination knob of the safe. The door refused to yield to their efforts, however, and the week-end station receipts were left intact.

DR. McCLURE DESCRIBES TRIP TO AND PRESENT

Conditions in Old Country

Hotel Hammerand,
Wien, Austria, Vienna
Sunday, August 16. '31

(Letter arrived here August 26)

C. L. Banton, Jr.,

Dear Blant:

Since I have myself located for sometime, I thought I had better have your sensation sheet. You may send it to me at the address I give you and don't forget, I need it.

Will try and give you a resume of my trip over here. It may interest you and may not—anyway I'm giving it to you.

Came over from New York, on the "New York", landed at Hamburg, 8 days out of N. Y., a delightful trip, sea smooth and fairly warm weather. The Hamburg American Line runs a special train from Cuxhaven to Hamburg, which takes two hours. I had ample opportunity to see the wonderful park system of Hamburg and the whole town, as I was there about eight hours. Leaving Hamburg at 11 p. m. I slept the first few hours of the trip in a perfectly good berth entirely different from our sleepers in the States. One has a whole compartment by themself—only one berth and is just a small room. The next morning, 9 a. m. gave me an opportunity to see some of the country. Germany has many beautiful forests of birch, pine and spruce. The fields are rather small and intensively cultivated. In one field you would see two cows yoked to a plow and in the next field a modern plow pulled by horses and occasionally a tractor plow.

Believe me, the women work too. You could see them everywhere in the fields pitching hay, plowing, and doing a man's work. There is very little waste land and all roads were excellent, and all were landscaped with flowers everywhere and ornamental trees along all roads.

The farm houses are mostly all very old but externally, in good repair. The one striking thing was that everything was so clean and orderly. If you walk on the grass or throw any rubbish on the street you are fined a small amount by the first policeman that catches you. Everything is clean and kept that way. In all the cities in Germany and Austria everyone that can leave, goes to the country and one would think that the whole country was on the move.

Vienna—pronounced Veen—is a delightful old city. Many of the buildings are more than a thousand years old and the architecture of the churches principally, is wonderful. Have not been inside of any of them as yet. The streets are all paved with cobblestone mostly. The side streets are all very narrow but the main streets are very broad and transportation by street car, tram or bus is rapid and efficient.

There are several good hotels, some modern and some partially modernized. However, if you want a bath, that's extra. One shilling (14c). The hotel rates are about what they are in the States, but one can get a private room for about $15 per month. Bath, soap, towels, etc., are added to your bill.

The food is good and plentiful. The average meal costs about three shillings (42c) small and large shops that sell most everything one would want are everywhere, and things are cheap. A Borsaline man's hat costs from three to four dollars. Tailor-made suit, the best, about forty to sixty dollars.

The University is a wonderful institution of about 11,000 beds in the various hospitals and one can get any work on any subject one would need, or want, at a fairly reasonable price.

The weather has been rather cool since I have been here averaging about 65 degrees.

This is about as much as I can tell you about this place until I find out some more about it myself. Send me your sheet Blanton. Best personal regards.

T. C. McClure.

NEW TYPE MELONS PROVE WILT RESISTANT CLAIMS

Wilt resistant melons were put on display at Holcomb last week by County Agent Talbert who tried them out this year with I. N. Goodwin of Frisbee and H. G. Jones of Kennett, Route 1, and reports on same.

They definitely proved themselves immune to wilt on the Goodwin farm where wilt is severe. A row of Irish Gray was planted to check on the wilt resistant varieties. Practically all the Irish Gray vnies wilted. None of the other varieties wilted.

The rinds on the wilt resistant varieties were tough, insuring their ability to stand shipping.

The eating quality of the Iowa King was satisfactory. The Pride of Muscatine was below average as to eating quality, and the Iowa Belle was inferior in this respect.

As to size, the Iowa King, a long melon stripped somewhat like the George Rattlesnake, reache d about 22 to 24 pounds. The Pride of Muscatine, a long melon with a blue-green solid colored rind, averaged 2 to 4 pounds smaller than the Iowa King. The Iowa Belle, a round green-splotchy colored melon, reached only about 16 or 18 pounds and was the poorest prospect of the lot.

The Iowa King was the best prospect of the lot according to Talbert, who says, 'If the wilt keeps spreading and gets into practically all our melon land, we can perhaps use the Iowa King if scientists are able to give it more size. But the population will have to greatly increase, and the world will have to get more melon hungry than it has been for these varieties to be of economic value. This condition is perhaps a generation away".—Kennett Democrat.

Kennett—Plans underway to establish airport in this city.

Hog cholera causes the death of 400 pigs every hour. Yet this disease is preventable, acording to the United States Department of Agriculture. Preventive measures consist of the use of the serum treatment to immunize the pigs, keeping the farm premises sanitary, and excluding all possible sources of infection from the hog lots. Cholera attacks both the strong and the weak pigs. Immunize them while they are young—it costs less.

FERTILE VALLEY NEWS

Hurrah for Morehouse! When you curry a mule the wrong way, he always gets high behind.

Hoyt Holt and Miss Mattie Lou Byrd attended a surprise birthday party at the home of Dee Wallace last Friday night.

Mr. Carroll has a small cane mill which he is trying to get in operation. He will make Dick Williams' crop of sorghum this week.

Miss Jo Malone, living two miles north of Buckeye, was said to be the best looking girl in Fertile Valley vicinity. Who said so?

E. W. Holt is making sorghum. He has a power mill and is making from 75 to 100 gallons per day of the "best lasses what is". Mr. Holt lives one miles north of Buckeye.

Hurray for the farmers through this section or at least most of them. They'll have corn bread and sorghum this winter and might survive the winter if they can get the fuel to cook the bread.

Last Friday night a good crowd enjoyed a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Frey's, 2 miles north of Miner Switch. Ice cream and cake were served. Mr. Frey's son and wife and a number from Sikeston attended.

FIRST OFFENDERS TO BE TRANSFERRED TO ALGOA

Jefferson City, August 24.—First offenders between the ages of 17 and 25 years, sentenced to the State Penitentiary for Boys at Boonville may be transferred to the Intermediate Reformatory at Algoa by the Department of Penal Institutions, with the consent of the Governor, a ruling by Attorney General Walter Sloat, today held.

The transfer can be made at any time, regardless of the offense for which the offender has been senetnced said the ruling which was approved by Attorney General Shartel.

Wash fairly large tomatoes and scoop out the insides are far as possible. Fill the centers with cottage cheese which has been mixed with chopped pickles, olives or nuts. A different kind of a filling can be made with a combination of vegetables or with chicken and celery. Serve on lettuce with a dab of thick dressing.

On this page this issue we are carrying a number of recipes, mixtures or messes that may be of interest to our women readers, but will not appeal to the stomachs of many men. However, most of them will eat what is set before them and say nothing. These are all copied from other sources and none recommended.

We were over in Ed Crowe's County of Stoddard, Sunday, and learned that some things in the hilly sections are more backwards than we ever dreamed. For instance they are very slow weaning their children. Seeing a boy 6 years old still feeding at the breast, a neighbor said: "Why don't you wean that boy? He ought to have been weaned when 4 years old". The mother replied: "Every time I try to wean him, he cusses and I'm afeared of him". The neighbor suggested putting asoefoedita on her breasts, which the mother did the next day just before she and her husband took the infant to church. During the service the infant walled, "Mom, I'm hongry". The mother replied; "You can't have anything here", but finally, to make peace, she gave him the breast. He tried both, spit and said, "Paw, give me a chaw of terbacker; damn if Maw ain't been eating wild onions".

It is estimated that the apple crop this year will be 218,000,000 bushels, which insures an adequate supply for the Hoover Street Corner Apple Market this winter.

The Postoffice Department reports that vast sums are handled annually through the mails with practically no loss from robbery. The explanation is fairly simple. It is that no mail robbery case is ever closed until it is closed by the arrest of those who staged the robbery. Criminals have been taught that it does not pay to rob the mails, and their attempts at it have steadily diminished, until they amounted to only nine for the whole country in a recent year. It is a plain lesson for law enforcement, as for criminals, in every other field. —Kansas City Times.

It is a question whether life's joke is on animals or on human beings. Whether men are smarter to work and strive take care of the animal creation, or the animals are smarter to eat and be taken care of can only be decided by man, and of course he is prejudiced. A two weeks' old calf can swim a river the first time it gets in the water, while a lot of men who have tried all of their life can never learn to swim. A cat or a chicken, the dryest of dry animals and fowls, can swim safely if thrown in water, yet neither may ever before have had its feet wet. A thousand head of cattle of a given breed and age do not markedly vary, one from the other, but imagine, if you can, the inequality in a thousand nude human beings, forty years of age. Assuredly there will be shown almost a thousand different physical results, because of the varied life habits. A pig or puppy, at time of birth, can immediately be removed as far as ten yards from its bed, yet either will find its mother's breast in a few minutes. A baby will starve, lying at its mother's side unless aided. Experts who are being sent out by our universities and those who have to do with animal husbandry, are years ahead of us. If they want to produce weight or speed or strength or wool or milk, they feed for that item in a given animal, and get the expected results. So it might be a good idea to watch these men and their work and the results, and apply similar procedures to human beings.—La Plata Home Press.

Good Recipes And Some Not So Good

These are salad days, indeed . . . these warm summery days when cool, crisp foods seem so appetizing and refreshing! Now more than any other time of the year, the planning of inviting dishes is important. Entirely new recipes are needed to stimulate appetites . . . and here is a list of delectable salad and dessert ideas . . . all easy to prepare, ever so economical, and perfectly certain to turn out right.

SALADS

Jellied Ginger Fruit Salad
1 pkg. lemon jelly (prepared)
½ cup boiling water
½ cups ginger ale
2 cups fruit

Add the boiling water to the lemon jelly and stand over boiling water till it is thoroughly dissolved. Remove from the heat, add ginger ale and allow it to stand until slightly thickened. Fresh fruit cut in small pieces can be used or canned fruit that has been drained should be put in the lemon jelly just when it has begun to thicken. Pour this into one large mold or small individual molds which have been wet with water and not dried. Cover the molds and allow them to stand in a cold place for several hours until they are firm.

Serve this on lettuce leaves with a dab of mayonnaise. This will make enough for at least two days' serving.

Jellied Fruit Salad
1 small can of fruit salad
¼ cup fine chopped celery
walnuts
1 tablespoon gelatine
2 tablespoons cold water
1 cup liquid

Drain the can of fruit salad and cut the fruit in small pieces. The liquid save and add enough boiling water so that it makes a cup. Add the celery and a few nut meats to the fruit. Soften 1 tablespoon gelatine in the cold water. Pour the cup of boiling liquid over the gelatine until it is dissolved. If it does not all dissolve set it over boiling water and stir until it does. Then cool this mixture and when it thickens slightly add the fruit mixture. Pour into molds which have been wet with cold water and not dried. The molds should be allowed to stand in a cold place till the contents have become firm.

Summer Salad
2 large apples
chopped walnuts
lettuce
1 stalk celery chopped
½ tart orange
½ cup mayonnaise

Cut the apples across, each apple making a bowl when the centers have been scooped out. Put the apple in ice water with some salt and the juice of a lemon so that the apple will not discolor. Chop the celery after it has been scraped, cut the orange after all the membrane has been removed. Mix some of the chopped apple from the center with the celery, orange and nuts, and pour over this some French dressing. When ready to serve, drain the apples and put this mixture in the inside, set on lettuce leaves and top with a red or green cherry. Mayonnaise may be served on the lettuce or on top of the apple.

Jellied Carrot and Pineapple Salad
1 package of lemon jelly
1 cup liquid
½ cup grated raw carrots
½ cup grated pineapple

Make a lemon flavored jelly using a cup of the liquid poured from the pineapple. Allow this to thicken and then add the carrots and the pineapple. Pour into a mold wet with cold water and allow it to become firm. Cut in fancy shapes, using sandwich or cookie cutters and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise or whipped cream.

Jellie Vegetable Salad
½ envelope or 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine
¾ cup cold water
¼ cup vinegar or lemon juice
⅜ cup vegetables

The gelatine should be stirred and disolved in the cold water, the boiling water is poured over this and the sugar, vinegar or lemon juice added. When it begins to thicken add the vegetables and stir. Pour into molds that have been wet with cold water. This takes several hours to make firm by chilling. Pretty color combinations can be made with peas, carrots, lima beans, tomatoes, cabbage, olives, etc.

Perfection Salad
1 tablespoon granulated gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
¼ cup sugar
⅜ cup chopped cabbage
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup chopped celery
1 pimento chopped
¼ cup chopped nuts

Soak the gelatine in cold water and dissolve it completely in the boiling water. Then add the sugar, salt, vinegar and lemon juice and cool until the thickening begins. Stir in the celery, pimento, nuts and cabbage. Pour into molds which have been wet with cold water. Allow this to stand. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise.

Japanese Salad
1 finely chopped pepper
Equal parts salmon and rice
chopped celery

Combine equal parts of canned or fresh cooked salmon with rice. Season this well and add finely chopped green peppers and chopped celery. Moisten and mix thoroughly with mayonnaise. This is a pretty salad served on lettuce leaves.

Save money... buy a Westinghouse Refrigerator

Forget the idea that a Westinghouse Refrigerator is an expense. It is an investment—a money-saver. Owners report that it saves nearly half its cost the very first year. And those savings will continue year after year.

It's the Westinghouse "Completely Balanced" construction that makes this economy possible. Find out about it. Why delay? Only $5 down. Two whole years to pay the balance. Remember, it saves while you pay. See us at once.

SCHOOL BOARDS WARNED ON HIRING OF RELATIVES

Jefferson City, August 25.—Attorney General Shartel said today he is receiving a flood of complaints against appointment of relatives by district school boards.

"Such action by school boards is in violation of the letter and spirit of the Constitution of Missouri and should be stopped by the prosecuting attorneys, Shartel said.

The Supreme Court has held the antinepotism provision of the Constitution is self-enforcing.

PRESIDENT HOOVER GIVES WILD DUCKS A BREAK

Washington, August 25.—President Hoover today signed a proclamation shortening the open season on ducks from three months to one. The proclamation was described as a conservation measure which was approved by forty-three duck conservation organizations and was opposed by three such organizations and three ammunition manufacturers.

NEW MADRID PROTESTS CUT IN TRAIN SERVICE

Jefferson City, August 24.—The town of New Madrid, in New Madrid County, today filed a protest with the State Public Service Commission in the proposed substitution of triweekly train service on the St. Louis and Southwestern Railroad between Birds Point and Malden and between Malden and Lilbourn.

The protest said the Cotton Belt was the only line which served New Madrid, and that its industries needed daily service.

"It may not be profitable to operate the line at this time during the depression", said the protest, "but when conditions return to normal the line again will be profitable".

A hearing on the railroad's application to substitute tri-weekly service is to be held soon.

TRY THESE COOL SUMMER RECIPES ON CAPRICIOUS APPETITES

Hot Weather Salad
eggs hard cooked
lettuce

Allow one egg for each person. Hard cook the eggs and peel them. Mold them into apples, pears or plums by pinching them while they are still hot. Hold them under the hot water faucet while they are being molded. Fold a piece of paper in several thicknesses and cut one edge several times to make a sort of fringe. This should be dipped into vegetable coloring and then tint the molded fruit with it. Serve the egg on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Grapefruit, Dates, Cheese and Nuts

Grapefruit should be peeled and the membranes stripped off, dates cut in small pieces, chopped nuts added and mixed together with the dressing. Cream cheese may be rolled in small balls and dusted with the chopped nuts and placed on the side of the plate.

Orange and Celery Salad

Oranges cut in small pieces may be mixed with chopped celery and served on lettuce with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Orange and Onion

Peel the orange and cut in thin slices. Alternate these slices with thin slices of the onion. It is prettiest to have the orange and the onion the same size so that the slices coincide.

Lima Beans, Celery and Peppers

This mixture is delicious. The lima beans should predominate. Green peppers make a pretty garnish.

Cabbage with Shredded Coconaut

The raw salads are very popular now and this mixture is unusual and should be served with a French dressing.

Orange, Grapefruit, Pineapple, Nuts

Cut and mix oranges, grapefruit, shredded pineapple and nuts together with a dressing. Serve on lettuce.

Orange, Cream Cheese and Nuts

Oranges may be sliced or quartered, cream cheese rolled into small balls (like butter balls, and rolled in chopped nuts. Serve with dressing and saltines or a salad cracker of some kind.

Peaches, Pineapple and Nuts

Canned or fresh peaches may be mixed with shredded pineapple and nuts sprinkled over the top of the dressing.

Pineapple, Cheese and Nuts

Sliced pineapple is good for this, a cheese ball rolled in chopped nuts can be placed in the center and a dab of mayonnaise on the lettuce foundation or on the pineapple.

Peaches and Marshmallows

Canned or fresh peaches may be used for this salad, marshmallows cut up in small pieces and mixed with cooked dressing.

Peaches and Marshmallows

Canned or fresh peaches may be used for this salad, marshmallows cut up in small pieces and mixed with cooked dressing.

Pineapple, Rice Salad

First place a slice of canned pineapple on lettuce leaves and then add a mixture of peaches or apricots with cooked rice. Pile this atop the pineapple and add a heavy dressing.

Stuffed Prune Salad

Use canned or stewed prunes, fill the centers with a mixture of celery, nuts, chopped pickles, olives or cream cheese moistened by a dressing. A dressing should be dabbed on top of the prunes as well.

Asparagus, String Beans, Celery and Carrots

Canned or fresh asparagus may be used for this. The quantities in which these are used is governed entirely by what is at hand.

Chicken, Veal, Celery and Egg

Veal often "doubles" for chicken and a little of both makes a very tasty salad. Chopped celery and a hard cooked egg sliced may be used to garnish this salad.

Frozen Tomato Salad

1 cup cooked fresh or canned tomatoes sugared to taste.

Season the tomatoes and add the sugar until the flavoring pleases you. Pour into molds and freeze. This can be served on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise.

MEAT, FISH AND EGG SALADS

Stuffed Egg Salad

Stuff the egg as you would for stuffed eggs a la king, jut them on lettuce and use mayonnaise or some other dressing over them.

Crab Flake Salad

This can be made with canned or fresh crab flakes, mixed with chopped celery and mayonnaise. Garnish with a hard cooked egg finely sliced.

Egg Salad

Hard cook eggs, slice them and put them on fresh lettuce leaves and pour French dressing over them. Garnish with pimento if desired.

Salmon and Pea Salad

Canned or fresh salmon should be shredded—look for bones—and mix with peas. A mayonnaise dressing is good to use to mix with this.

Tuna and Celery Salad

Canned tuna fish should be mixed well with chopped celery and moistened with a dressing. Garnish with a hard cooked egg.

Two Cantaloupes May Look Alike . . .

Every home-maker knows that two cantaloupes may be the same size, the same color and shape—and yet taste entirely different.

The same thing is true of ice cream. Two dishes of ice cream may look the same. They may have the same color. They may be called "vanilla", "peach", "chocolate" or any one of a dozen different names. But the taste test will disclose a vast difference in flavor, in richness, in quality and goodness.

Mid-South home-makers for nearly three generations have learned that the familiar FORTUNE'S script signature on a brick or bulk package of ice cream takes the gamble out of the transaction. They have found they are buying a known quality. They have learned that while FORTUNE'S ALL-CREAM ICE CREAM may be, and often is, imitated, no one has ever been able to imitate the experience of many years that lies behind FORTUNE'S quality.

These same years of experience also have taught Mid-South home-makers to rely upon drug stores and confectioneries displaying the FORTUNE'S sign. They have found that the dealer who sells the best obtainable ice cream, also stocks the finest quality of drugs, fountain supplies, stationery, pharmaceuticals, chemicals and confections.

A FORTUNE'S sign in front of a drug store or confectionery, or displayed on a window or over a soda fountain is, in effect, a symbol of quality. It is an indication of the dealer's character, and of his consideration for his customer's welfare.

Whenever you buy ice cream, look for the familiar FORTUNE'S signature.

REMEMBER—Only ice cream may be sold as ice cream. Under the law, substitutes having less than 8% butterfat content must bear some other name. FORTUNE'S contains 16% butterfat, or twice the richness required by law.

AS I SEE IT

By I'm About Town

We have not quite made up our mind what position to suggest for Tom Allen, but convinced we are that he's a "big man" for some place.

Ozark and other hilly section papers please note the following:

A farmer in Michigan advertised in the local paper, inviting city folks to come out and get, "free of charge", all the nice rocks they might want and need for their rock gardens. The advertisement was a success.

Local folks can take a free trip to Akron, Ohio, by merely walking downtown and glancing at Tip Keller's window.

What this country needs right now is not a good five-cent cegar, but a woman's shoe extra large on the inside, and size 3½AA inside. Would they sell!

If all the malt, sugar, yeast and empty bottles purchased by women who are going to bake "brown sugar bread" were laid end to end—aw well, figure this out for yourself.

To the harrassed City Council we suggest another form of taxation, weed taxes. We suggest doubling valuation on every vacant lot allowed to grow up in weeds, and to triple the rate.

And speaking of taxes we find the following in the San Diego Herald:

In a good many cities of the West politicians are proposing "occupational taxes".

An occupational tax is a tax on the right to live; it is a nuisance tax, and we are against it.

We are, by the way, against ALL new taxes. You can't lower taxes by starting new ones.

An occupational tax is unfair because it doesn't tax all occupations.

No one has yet suggested a tax on politicians, although politics is an occupation—when it isn't a racket. And no one, you may be sure, ever will.

Why should a department store owner, or a doctor, or a garageman be taxed, while poiticians and executive secretaries—and, for that matter, newspaper men—remain occupationally untaxed?

There is only one way to reduce taxes, and that is to reduce expenses. We respectfully suggest that the politicians try cutting expenses for a bit, instead of trying to discover new victims to tax.

We are starting a fund, purely local, to buy the Missouri Pacific railroad new silent whistles for their engines. The boys on the run through our city here of late have made it their special duty to jerk the toot cord clear to the floor at the Shoe Factory crossing, then at the Mill, then Ranney Street, Kingshighway, New Madrid Street, Scott and finally Stoddard Streets, which is another way of saying that the danged whistle is tied down from the time the train enters Sikeston on the east until it leaves on the west and vice reverse. The new "silent" whistles will enable the engineer and fireman to toot their bloomin' heads off, without disturbing anyone living more than four miles from any crossing. Other folks will continue to take their chances.

Speaking of Credit

A slow-paying customer sent the following note to his grocers: "Please send six dozen eggs; if good, will send check".

The grocers, however, were not doing any business on such risky terms, so they wrote back: "Send check; if good will send six dozen eggs".

Contributed:

Have you heard the one that was going the rounds at a party the other night? It was about a deputy sheriff. The one under discussion had been sent to take inventory of the furnishings of a house to be sold at a sheriff's sale. He didn't come back.

A searching party found him stretched out on a couch in the house. Nearby, on a table, was a list reading: "One dining table, six chairs, one lamp, one quart whisky". The last item was scratched out and beneath it was written: "One pint whisky". That also had been scratched out and "One whisky bottle" inserted. The last entry, in a wavering scrawl, noted "One revolving rug".

"Ira, this is our twenty-fifth wedding anniversary; shall we kill a chicken?"

"Why punish the chicken for what happened 25 years ago?"

Little Mary was attending church with her mother, when she complained of feeling sick at the stomach.

"Go out in the churchyard for a few minutes and you will be better", whispered her mother.

Mary left the pew, but returned in a couple of minutes.

"Why, Mary, where did you go?" again whispered her mother, surprised at her quick return.

"I stopped at a box in the back which said on it 'For the Sick'. I feel all right now".

Deaths from auto accidents in the United States average 84 per day. The question arises whether these lives are worth saving, or if a death is of such proportions must be accepted as a necesary consequence of an unavoidable condition. If it is admitted that fatalities must be cut down, there is a sure and certain way of accomplishing that result. Signals and brakes are like antidotes for a man who already has taken poison. In the absence of a material reduction in speed limits, no relief is in sight.

A Harvard authority pronounces in favor of a general increase in inheritance taxes. Of all forms of taxation, the inheritance tax is least popular and most difficult to enforce. The right of the boy to receive the old homestead from the father is firmly implanted in the human breast, and so far as enforcement is concerned, the law can be defeated easily by a pre-mortem gift, in which event the monopoly of an accumulated fortune will remain unbroken, and the revenue to the State be defeated. Advocates of the inheritance tax never have been able to lay a basis for it in logic or justice, or to point out a way in which it can be made universally and evenly effective.

The Roadhouse Question Again

Just a belated line to the two good ladies of Sikeston who seem to be after my scalp anent the roadhouse controversy. Their letters just came to my attention.

I reply first to the "Interested Reader", who, as is often the case with altruists and 'soul savers', wanders far from facts. No one reading my article with unprejudiced eyes could see "ridicule" for the unfortunate woman who was trying to "save her husband". There are many kinds of women in the world, perhaps they are the better christians who are more forgiving and less tolerant. I represent the latter class, as I could not imagine myself going to the "lowest dives that exist" in order to save "some poor soul" for I cannot imagine that method being effective. One might go to almost an extreme for a son, for whom they are responsible, for our sons are worth saving at any cost; but trailing an "erring" husband from one dive to another in order to "save his soul" doesn't appeal to me. He is of responsible age and is either a man—or he isn't.

And when he frequents roadhouses and "is down" as the lady puts it, is when he thinks he is having the time of his life and in no mood to listen to pleadings for his soul, and the wife gets only abuse for following him around. Personally I can only reiterate what I wrote before, that between the dives and the wife and home, I would let it be a matter of his choice.

Next, the same lady thinks that I "am half-way in favor of roadhouses". I know very little about roadhouse. I certainly have no use for the prostitute, and but little more for the unctious, sanctiomonious prude; and it's been my experience through life that the more sanctimonious they are the less regard they have for veracity. Instance, her assertion that I think the wife "committed an unpardonable sin" when she went to that roadhouse "pleading with tears in her eyes etc." Far from it. I merely think she made a mistake.

The lady who signs herself "The Married Man's Wife", writes a good letter and a very sensible one and I pay tribute to her fealty even though we may not agree. And her husband has the rudiments of loyalty even tho' he does go to a roadhouse occasionally, and doubtless has many good qualities that holds her steadfast in her faith in him.

She says that a bottle of beer does not hurt anyone. Also that her husband is "no angel". Very few of our husband's are "angels" dear lady and I fancy we wouldn't like 'em any better if they were, would we? For I can imagine that an "angel' husband would be a very uncomfortable person to live with, and it's true that a glass, or a bottle of beer doesn't hurt anyone, and while I'm sure the wife would rather her husband would drink his beer at home, she is defending him, as a loyal wife should, so long as she lives with him.

But the Sign Says: "Hands Off"!

The nation today is paying for its liquor, about a billion dollars a year MORE than it paid before prohibition.

It is spending—in hard times—a few million dollars short of three billion a year, for booze.

It is consuming wine at the rate of 118,320,000 gallons a year; beer at the rate of 683,000,000 gallons; almost 40,000,000 gallons of alcohol—which means easily double that amount of "whisky' and "gin".

These are not "wet" figures; they are department of justice figures.

In 1930 there were more than 15,000 cases of liquor poisonings. Monetary loss: $50,000,000. Authority: American Medical Association.

Our murder rate steadily goes up. It is now 17 times that of 'wet" England and Wales.

Our jails and penitentiaries are overcrowded with "felons" and we are shoveling in more at a tremendous rate. England is emptying her jails almost as fast as we are filling ours.

. . . . Nothing, however, must be done about prohibition. Thats' the order from above, where the Ant Saloon League, the W. C. T. U. and various boards for regulating our morals sit in judgment upon us and tell us what's good for us.

Iowa boys in 4-H Clubs last year raised an average of 6.9 more bushels of corn to the acre than their fathers did in the same fields.

Dairy cows produce more milk if they have constant access to pure drinking water than if they are watered irregularly or only at certain hours. An automatic water bowl for each cow is the best way to supply water when the cows are confined in individual stalls, the Bureau of Dairy Industry has found. Place it at the right height—from 26 to 28 inches above the floor for Jerseys and other small breeds and from 28 to 30 inches for Holsteins.

SCHOOL TERM WILL OPEN HERE SEPT. 7

The fall and winter term of high school will get underway Monday, September 7 with some 1200 or 1300 Sikeston children on the prospect list as students.

Superintendent Roy V. Ellise looks forward to the largest enrollment in the history of the system here, especially since rural graduates will be enabled to attend high school tuition paid this year. For the past several years enrollment has shown a steady increase especially in the lower grades. At present nearly every house and apartment in the city is rented, which indicates that there will be a negligible loss, if any, from the fact that persons might have moved out of the city.

More and more educational requirements have been imposed upon faculty members, and upon candidates for positions in the local system until at present there are few teachers who have not had the equivalent of at least 90 hours of college or university training.

Superintendent Ellise will begin his eleventh consecutive term as head of the system. Other teachers on the faculty last term will for the most part be present again this fall. W. E. Mahew will be principal filling the position vacated by M. C. Cunningham, who will take charge of the Desloge school system this fall as superintendent.

Other new members of the faculty include Miss Uriel Haw of Benton in high school work, who succeeds Miss Cuthbert, resigned. Miss Myrtle Dalton of Cape Girardeau, Burdeen Schroff in departmental work at the high school and Miss Osie Kilgore in the grades.

A complete list of faculty members follow:

Superintendent, Roy V. Ellise.

High school: W. E. Mahew, principal; Mrs. J. Vieth, matehmatics; Isabelle Hess, vocational economics; H. F. Sherwood, manual training; Frances Burch, Helen Mothersead, Daisy Evans, W. B. Miller, Uriel Haw.

Departmental work at high school: Electa O'Hara, Madge Davis, Agnes Erley, Nellie Goodman, Ruth Cowan, Tharon Stallings, Myra Tanner, Myrtle Dalton, and Burdeen Schroff.

Grades: Maude Herring, principal; Wilma Ragains, Nell Yanson, Lucille Finley, Lucille Mount, Lucille Stubblefield, Ruth Bateman, Florence Crisler, Lydia Chaney, Jewell Mouser, Mrs. E. W. Davis, Mignon Newton, Pearl Allard, Mrs. W. W. Hinchey, Osie Kilgore, Dorothea Miller, Louise Blount and Annie Dudley Killam for mid-year kindergarten.

Colored: Iola Huddleston, principal and Nola Smith.

Sikeston citizens will watch another phase of school teaching with interest this year. The School Board went on record last spring approving a resolution automatically cancelling teachers' contracts in case Daniel Cupid makes a hit during the school year.

"That Interesting Store"

Home Furnishings—Our 34th Year in S. E. Mo.

Attention is directed this week to a slight change in heading of our ad. One line reads: "Our 34th year in S. E. Mo." Last week it read "33rd". The mere fact that we had our 33rd. business birthday on the 10th of this month is of little interest to the public. That we have had 33 years' experience as exclusive distributors of home furnishings in this section however may be of some value to prospective furniture buyers. Children and grandchildren of our first patrons are numbered among present day customers. That leads us to believe we may have done a fair job at serving our trade. We have made thousands of mistakes and probably will make a good many more but one sure thing is there will be no misrepresentation of merchandist nor lack of hard work around this store in our efforts to make things go. Our goal is set for a good Fall business and you may be assured we have the ammunition with which to get it else we would not feel so confident. If you have not up to this time been a patron of this store, we invite you to join us in the beginning of "our 34th year in S. E. Mo."

Bargain hunters who may soon be searching for good ranges or heating stoves at a price should see what we have to offer in that line. Twenty or more heaters which have been thoroughly repaired and fitted for good service will be ready now in another week for sale and delivery. Reasonable terms of payment are available on all of them.

And now comes another shipment of neat breakfast sets in various colorings and styles ranging in prices from $15.00 up that are unusually good values. Our source of supply in St. Louis is ever on the lookout for late styles at low cost to consumers. See these sets and you will agree with us.

Good mattresses continue to move out regularly and this week we have some altogether new numbers in fine inner spring models that have not been shown before. Ticks are beautiful and construction absolutely dependable—in fact, a thorough guarantee goes with every one that is just what we say it is or your money will be refunded.

Moore's Circulating Heaters are probably the best known line of strictly quality heaters on the market. They are not low in price—never have been—but they are extremely high in efficiency and satisfaction. The "Gloria" model for 1931 is said to be the prettiest soft coal heater in the country. We are showing this model in two sizes. Time payments are okay.

School days will soon be here. With that in mind we mention a number of solid oak library tables in our used department which will prove dandy for study purposes. We'll sell them for a song.

IS THIS BEAN A BEAN OR ISN'T IT? ASK MANY WHO HAVE SEEN THIS CURIO

An Australian bean weighing some 26 pounds has been "harvested" from a vine in the garden of Dr. and Mrs. Handy Smith of this city. One single sprout produced a vine which covers a telephone pole and runs 20 or more feet along the wires. Only one "bean"—which more resembles a squash—has been pulled from the main stalk, and another one of the curious vegetable freaks is estimated to weigh in the neighborhood of thirty pounds.

Author of "Jack and the Bean Stalk", and those who claim fairy tales are so much tripe, please notice.

CHARLESTON BANK CASHIER RESIGNS: EAST PRAIRIE TO HAVE NEW DEPOSITORY

Charleston August 24.—Talmage F. Cutliph cashier of the First Security State Bank of this city, has resigned his position.

R. E. Redman of Palmyra, Mo., has accepted the position and will assume his duties September 5.

A new bank will be opened in East Prairie, 12 miles south of this city, on September 8. It will be known as the Bank of East Prairie.

Riley Presson of East Prairie, who is at present Assistant Cashier of the First Security State Bank of this city, will probably be cashier of the new bank at East Prairie.

SECOND HANDICAP MATCH SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY

Members of the Sikeston golf club will participate Sunday afternoon in another handicap tournament. The first such match was voted a success last Sunday afternoon with twenty-nine players participating.

Handicaps are determined from previous tournament scores, or from cards turned in during the week. The "free strokes" thus determined tend to even up expert, mediocre and poor shooters, and in reality gove those in the middle and lower bracket an advantage over those who usually head the list.

Tentative plans have been formulated to conduct a elimination club championship tournament in connection with, or following the completion of the present handicap matches.

Players in the lower brackets would still be fortified with their handicaps, but an added trophy indication the championship of the local club would be offered as an inducement to participate.

Animals caused more injuries to farm folk than did machinery, a survey of farm accidents by the Nebraska Press Association indicated. In 19 months 481 cases were attributed to animals and 405 to machinery.

SOME NEW MADRID COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

Milus R. Davis, Co. Supt.

Every teacher should take a county paper. The county where you teach is good enough to feed you, and you should become acquainted with it by reading the local paper.

Our supply of report cards has just been exhausted but we intend to have some more in soon for those who need them.

The colored teachers' meeting was held in New Madrid Saturday and was well attended, 28 teachers being present, which means 100 per cent attendance.

There is a move on foot to extend the educational facilities of the negro above the elementary grades, but such attempts will be futile until the standard of their grade work is elevated considerably. Much money is wasted by employing colored teachers who do not know their eighth grade subjects and will not try to improve their education by daily preparation.

Our teachers' meeting for rural white teachers on August 18 was addressed by C. E. Burton, Robert R. Hill, Roy V. Ellise, Fred Lewallen, C. E. Pepmiller, Dan Tyler, Laura Kornegger, R. M. Stevenson, R. H. Weaks and H. W. McCoy and Mrs. Willa D. Alsup gave us a reading.

We intended to have a round table conference in the afternoon for a full discussion of the year's work, but after the speakers had spent their energy, very little time was left for this part of the program.

Most of the rural teachers have paid their fee to the State Teachers' Association. Teachers in high school districts may join through their local superintendent, and others should send the 2 to the County Superintendent.

Following is a list of those who have already joined together with the name of the district where they are teaching: Ruby Higgs, Cade; Alma Heath, Broadwater; Elizabeth Hoehn, Broadwater; Alice Deane (unemployed); Cecil Hines, Barnes Ridge; Elvena Latimer, O'Bannon; Martha Jo Hart, Dawson; Dan Tyler, Phillips; Homer H. Jones, Boekerton; Mrs. V. A. Lovelace (unemployed); Agnes Littel, Phillips; A. M. Calvert, Kendall; Bernice Davis, Maple Grove; Faustina Davis, New Hope; Vivian Davis, Maple Grove; Phyllis Atwell, Scott; Evelyn Smith, St. Mary; Dora Lee, La Forge; Beryl Liles, Point Pleasant; Agatha Weaks Parks, Walnut Grove; Glenda Waters, York; Floella Wimp, Union Grove; Laura Kornegger, Cross Roads; Rosa Lee Howard, Fairview; Mrs. Andy DeLisle, LaFont; Lela Hollenbeck, Boekerton; Mrs. Anna Tucker, Hough; Willa D. Alsup, Matthews; Frankie Deane, Matthews; Mary Mumma, Gideon; Agatha Mumma, Gideon; Marjorie Anderson, Gideon; Mary Brantley, Portageville; Pearle C. Werner, Canalou; Sadie E. Crites, Parma; Herbert Illers, Kewanee; Hunter Miller, Portageville and Fannie Swilley, Portageville.

The rural teachers received their new State Course of Study at the meeting. Each local superintendent has or will be supplied with a Course of Study for each teacher in his system. This statement is in answer to inquiries received from teachers of high school districts.

You have no idea how many varieties of sardines are to be had at the large grocery stores. There are domestic sardines from California, French sardines with and without bones. Sardines that are both skinless and boneless sardines in oil and sardines in tomato, sardines in tin and in glass, sardines in wine sauce from France. Then there are sardines from Portugal and sardines from Norway, and for sandwiches and appetizers there is sardine paste that comes in glass jars and in tubes.

A rather weak solution of the juice of the plant will clean an entire heating system of rust and corrosion.

PORTAGEVILLE MAN SLAIN OVER ALLEGED ATTENTIONS TO THE WIFE OF ANOTHER

Caruthersville, August 25.—Dolph Smith, 55, a farmer, of Linda, Mo., confessed last night, officials here announced today, that he killed Charles Day, 35, of Portageville, at a fishing camp north of here last Friday night and then threw his body into Wolf Bayou. The body was found floating in the bayou Saturday.

Authorities said Smith told them he argued with Day over alleged attentions Day paid to Mrs. Smith. When Day rowed out onto the bayou, Smith followed in another boat and struck him on the head with an oar.

Officials said information upon which Smith was arrested was obtained from Mrs. Smith. Both men were drinking, she said.

Eucador is an exporting country only for the reason that the people of that country have no money with which to buy the products of the nation. Panama hats represent the greatest industry, and while his headgear is eminently adapted for the use of the natives they seem to have very little use for them, and the result is that they find a market in other countries. The other exports of Ecuador are hemp, wool and cotton, fiber shoes and cigars.

Boy Scout Round-up And Water Carnival To Be Held

Plans have just about been completed for the Round-Up at Cape Girardeau. Scoutmasters are invited to bring Scouts just as early Friday, September 25 as you wish. Should any of the troops arrive early, provision will be made for a guide to take them through the College Buildings. The registration at booth as last year will be in the Court House Park and all Scouts are urged to regsiter as soon as they arrive in town. Supper will be served beginning at 6 o'clock. Parade to the stadium will probably start at 7 o'clock. Remember, it will be necessary for Scouts to register if they are to be admitted to the game free.

It has been decided that three Honor Troops will be selected, based upon their appearance in the parade. One Honor Troop will be selected from Cape Girardeau, one from the troops of the Southeast Missouri Area outside of Cape and one from the Mineral Area. It is felt that the Cape Girardeau troops would have an unfair advantage if competing with troops that had to travel some distance to get here. Furthermore, we are not anxious to develop any particular competition between the two Areas and hence felt that a separate award for the visiting council would be appropriate.

The program for in between halves has been changed somewhat. As last year, we will have the Shuttle Relay, four men from each troop, each man to run 50 yards and touch off the next runner. The Fire by Friction contest, however, has been dropped, chiefly because it is impossible to conduct it so that the crowd can see what is going on and also because there seems to be a deficiency in Fire by Friction experts. In its place two games or contests will be held. Immediately following the Shuttle Relay there will be a 20-yard Crab race, in which each troop will be allowed to enter two contestants. In running the Crab race, the contestant runs on all 4's, face up. The third contest will be a Cock Fight. Directions for this may be found on Page 353 of the Scoutmasters Hand Book. All the Scouts present may participate in the Cock Fight.

Area Swim Meet

The Sikeston Scouts will be hosts of the Area at a Water Carnival in the Sikeston Pool Labor Day, September 7 at 2 o'clock p. m. The Scouts are to have exclusive use of the Pool during the meet and all registered Scouts of Southeast Missouri Council invited to participate. A cup will be awarded the winning troop to be held for one year and ribbons will be presented at the meeting of the Sikeston Court of Honor which will be held the night of the meet. Wilbur Ensor, Deputy Commissioner and the Red Cross Life Saving Examiner, will be in charge of the Carnival. Rules of the meet are:

There will be two classes:

Class A—Scouts weighing 130 lbs. or over.

Class B—Scouts weighing less than 130 lbs.

Where their ability permits, Scouts in Class B weight classification may enter the Class A events providing they do not participate in Class B events.

Only registered Scouts under 18 years of age may participate.

Each Scout may participate in not more than 3 contests besides the Relay.

Five places will be awarded points —5-4-3-2-1, but ribbons will go to winners of only the first three places.

Entries must be in the hands of Carnival Officials by 1 o'clock the day of the meet. Scoutmasters should mail them as soon as possible to W. E. Hollingsworth, Sikeston, Mo.

The events will be the same for both classes.

The winning troop will be determined by totaling points won in both classes.

Coming Events

ALL EMPLOYES OF FORD IN 1932 MUST HAVE OWN GARDENS

Detroit, August 24.—Impressed by the idea that there was no use trying to help a man who didn't help himself by raising a garden, Henry Ford announced Saturday that next year every man in his employ would be required to have a garden.

"Next year", he said, "every man with a family will be required to have a garden of sufficient size to supply his family with at least a part of its winter's vegetable or he will find himself out of a job.

The cmopany will provide land for those who have no backyards and instruction for those who can't pull weeds after working in the factory.

The decision of Ford came after he visited the co-operative gardens at Iron Mountain in the northern section of the State, where he has purchased thousands of acres of land.

In an interview the automobile magnate said:

"The man who is too indolent to work in a garden in his leisure time is not deserving of a job. Instead of waiting for the moratorium to perform miracles, the people of the United States should begin to help themselves".

398 FEET OF HODAG IS FOUND BY ARIZONIAN

Stony Ford, Ariz.—Fossilized remains of a hodag (glyptomeridon giganta) were discovered recently in Red canyon by Seth Bailey, a prospector.

The skeleton, Bailey said, measured 398 feet, nine inches, from tail to tail. The hodag was a curious animal of the pleistocene age; it had two tails, one at each end, with a head in the middle. It was subject to colds in the head and when it sneezed the earth cracked, resulting in the canyons so common in the desert country.

Unlike other mammoths, the hodag had square corners. All of its bones were square and some of the smaller ones were used in early days for bars in pioneer saloons.

The animal died out through the attacks of mosquitoes. Being square, it was unable to roll in the sand and rid itself of the pests and was so annoyed that it committed suicide.

BRAGGADOCIO GETS FIRST COTTON OF THE SEASON AGAIN

Caruthersille Democrat Argus, August 25.—The first load of cotton to be reported picked and marketed this season was taken to Braggadocio yesterday and sold to the Ward-Coppage Gin, arriving there about 11:30 Monday morning. It weighed 1670 pounds and was brought in by Mr. Dye from the Earl Long farm a few miles from the town and was of the Early Trice variety.

This is at least the second or third year when the honor of producing the first bale has gone to the Long land and the distinction of its purchase to the Ward-Coppage interests at Braggadocio. While we are not informed as to the price paid, we understand that a very nice premium was paid Mr. Dye by the ginning firm.

Mr. Coppage states that this load of cotton is not a premature affair, such as sometimes is the case where the staple opens early on a sandy spot, being forced out ahead of the bulk of the crop, but that the bolls are opening rapidly and it will likely not be long until picking will be well under way in that vicinity. It is also a matter of note in this connection that Mr. Dye also reported the first cotton blossom in his section of the county.

GIVE UP ATTEMPT TO ROB WICKLIFFE BANK

Wickliffe, Ky.—After failing in an attempt to blow a safe in the Citizen's State Bank here last night, burglars acknowledged defeat by printing 'you win" in large letters on the safe door, and took their departure. No trace has been found of them. An acetylene torch was used. The men left no clues in the bank, which they entered through a side window. Smoke still hung in the vault when officials opening the bank for business this morning discovered the attempt.

CANNING DEMONSTRATIONS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Miss Flora Lee Carr of the College of Agriculture, held two canning demonstrations last week, the first sponsored by the Neighborhood Women's Club at Morley. This was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Emerson. The members of the new Morley 4-H Canning Club were also present.

At Salcedo a similar meetting was held and arranged by Mrs. Hez Ozment. At each of these meetings the hot water bath method and the steam pressure method was demonstrated. Many present stated that they were having trouble with canned corn. Miss Carl in most instances found that they had not precooked the corn. Others failed to get their corn in cans in less than two hours, and that many had tried canning the corn after it was past the roasting ear stage. She suggested that corn that had goten out of the roasting ear stage should be dried for good keeping.

The Salcedo group attempted to start a Canning 4-H Club within this next week as several girls have expressed interest.

GIRL BITTEN BY DOG TAKES TETANUS SHOTS

Anti-tetanus serum is being administered to Mary Ann Johnson, 4-yearod daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson of this city, bitten by a Spitz dog last Thursday afternoon at the J. J. Reiss farm. Mary Ann and her brother, Jimmie, 7 years old, accompanied their father to the Reiss orchard last Thursday to get peaches, when the child was attacked by the small dog.

The usual procedure of sending the dog's head to Jefferson City for examination has not been followed, but the anti-rabies treatment is being given as a necessary precaution.

Death of One, Fortune Tellers And Attempted Robbery Enter The Johnson Parrot Case

A brief news story last Tuesday informed Standard readers that one green, very talkative polly parrot had been stolen while the five families who live in the converted mansion were away—a state of affairs odd in itself, according to members of the Malone family.

Neighbors were interviewed by Mrs. Johnson, who had become very much attached to her green polly. From them she obtained information which pointed first to the posibility that gypsy families might have paid an unannounced call, for it was from such travelers that she obtained the bird.

Then came information which pointed more definitely to one person, a man who had been seen prowling about Sunday afternoon. A description was obtained.

Tuesday, Mrs. Johnson visited a fortune teller, a negress, who presides over the cards and other paraphernalia incident to the seers art, in Sunsete Addition.

"You've lost something", were the words which greeted Mrs. Johnson. Then followed a thumbing of cards. "I see chickens, and you'll get your article back. A man whose name begins with "J" will play a part in the recovery". And with that the interview with the powers that preside over cards and crystal balls, was over.

The following night, O. M. Headlee, city marshal of Morehouse, called Clyde Hubbard to halt, following the theft of chickens from a Morehouse cafe. Hubbard refused to comply. He dropped, however, as with a dull thud, a shotgun charge struck him in the back and neck.

A tip to the Malone family here stated that the late Frosty was the one who had removed Polly from the Malone house, and that the bird would be found, safe and sound, with a farmer living north of Morehouse. John R. Malone returned with polly—a bob-tailed polly now—trussed up in a cardboard box.

'Ho, ho, ho, Earl Johnson" was the greeting of the green talkative bird as he peered cockeyed from his narrow make-shift cage upon arrival at home.

Members of the family have pieced together a plausible explanation of the whole affair. Frosty had entered the five-apartment mansion with the intention of robbery or theft. Polly probably screamed or created some disturbance which led him to grab the bird—and here's where polly loses her tail feathers—and make a hasty exit. Hubbard, if he was the visitor, took the basement door key with him, to affect an easier entrance the next time, and hurried away to deposit the bird with a farmer friend.

Polly is again with friends, but Frosty will never come back.

'OH! PROFESSOR' TO BE GIVEN SEPT. 2

The home-talent production, "Oh! Professor", auspices Sikeston Lions Club, will be presented Wednesday night, September 2 at the high school auditorium, curtain at 8 o'clock.

An announcement made last week stated that the play would be presented on Thursday evening, but the date has been moved forward one day. Miss Billy Ruth Sears of Atlanta, Ga., is directing.

A cast of ten and chorus members numbering about 35 has been hard at work since last Monday night learning the manuscript, songs and plain and fancy steps. Rehearsals are being held in the Young building on Malone Avenue.

Major characters in the musical comedy college sketch include: Louis Walker as Steve Crandall, Kemper Bruton, the professor; Miss Billy Ruth Sears, as Senorita May, 'late of the Ziegfeld Follies"; Benny Topper as the Chink, Cornelia Randol, Mrs. Bumboard; Bob Nicholson as Dave Davis, Art Wallhausen as Dave's brother Bob, Catherine Ann Cook as Avonelle, and Emanual Schorle as the big, burly policeman.

Three chorus numbers will be featured including twelve tiny tots, a mixed chorus of twelve boys and girls, and another composed of eight very striking local beauties.

Miss Lillian Rita Derris will spend the week-end with Miss Anna Frances Willingham at Cairo.

The Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the Methodist church and the Gleaners' Class of the Methodist Church are entertaining with a lawn party at the home of Mrs. E. J. Keith Friday evening.

L. R. BOWMAN ENTERS HOLE-IN-ONE CLUB

Sikeston has one member in that exclusive fraternity of golfers known as the "Hole-in-one" Club. He is none other than Lyman Bowman who last Monday afternoon accomplished what no other golfer on the local links had been able to accomplish in the six-year history of the Sikeston club . . . he sunk out a shot on No. 7, a 141-yard hole in one.

The fete is attested by L. M. Stallcup, C. L. Malone and Orville Lumsden, members of the foursome.

We have heard much of the Becker-Brunk combination in Jefferson City, but occasionally we find a Republican officer willing to lay aside political considerations in order to do his duty to his constituents. Tre action of Attorney General Shartel in signing quo warranto proceedings for Sikeston in the face fo strong opposition, political, leagl and private, is to be highly commended. The Republican party might do worse than consider in Shartel sound material from which governors are made.

A report of many petty burglaries last week-end is current. Mention is made of attempts to enter the Dr. J. A. Hess home, the Laundry, Taylor Auto Company, Energy Coal Company and others. Only in one instance were officers able to give an intelligent report—in the Energy Coal Company case. We do not believe our officers are trying to "keep things out of the papers", but we do believe that a little more co-operation between citizens and officers might lead to the capture of the burglar or burglars. Report all thefts at once upon discovery. If that legal procedure does not do the trick, citizens will be forced to shoot first and ask questions and make reports later provided they catch a night visitor in the act of breaking in. Funerals have a way all their own of settling minor differences over property rights.

SURVEY INDICATES HOOVER CAN'T WIN

A national survey just completed by the Scripps-Howard newspapers indicate that Herbert Hoover is certain to be renominated; that the naming of some other man would be much more satisfactory to many Republicans; that there is little prospect for Hoover's re-election. There are now 25 newspapers in the Scripps-Howard chain, among them the New York World-Telegram. In 1928 the newspapers supported Hooer; now they are vigorously opposing him.

The renomination of Hoover is certain, the survey shows, because he controls, through patronage, enough delegates to go into the convention with a majority. There is also an element in the party which clings to the idea that a first-term President must be renominated.

But there is strong opposition to Hoover within his own organization. This opposition is disgusted with Hoover and his blundering and is favorable to the nomination of Dwight Morrow, of New Jersey, recently elected to the Senate, or Calvin Coolidge. An Eastern man, said to have raised much money for the Republican war chest in past years, is quoted as having made the statement that the nomination could be taken away from Hoover 'if we had a million dollars to make the fight".

Despite party antagonism to the President, it is found that there is no real movement under way to prevent his renomination. It is considered probable that some favorite-son voting will be done by various State delegation, but that Hoover will be the strong candidate and be named on an early ballot.

The likelihood of the re-election of Hoover appears to be very slim. So far as the South is concerned, it is found to have returned to its traditional party alignment, and every State below the Mason and Dixon line will be for the Democratic candidate, whoever he may be. The border States evidently will go Democratic, too. These include Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Maryland and Missouri. So far as Tennessee and Oklahoma are concerned, they are strongly Democratc. The other three States are closed under nomal conditions, but are found now to be determined on a change of Administration.

New England, which has been very hard hit by the industrial depression, is said to be headed for the Democratic column. Al Smith carried Massachusetts and Rhode Island; next year Connecticut may be found on the roster of Democratic States.

There is decisive evidence that Ohio will go Democratic by 200,000 and that Illinois and Indiana will follow suit. While the survey does not make mention of Minnesota reliable reports reaching Kansas City are that the State is lost to the Republicans.

In what the survey terms the "Southwest" there is growing disaffection due to the collapse of agriculture and mineral markets.

Ray Tucker, Washington correspondent of the World-Telegram, says: "With Southern border and Northeast States listing toward the Democrats, if only in protest against the Administration, this lineup gives the minority sufficient electoral votes to win"—it being conceded that "New York is lost to the G. O. P."

In Kansas City political observers believe the Democrats will carry many of the States west of the Mississippi. The two Dakotas and Nebraska have lost faith in the President, reports indicate, and the Democrats are expected to carry Montana, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico. Wyoming may also go against Hoover. Smith lost Utah by a very narrow margin; observers declare Roosevelt would carry it.

There is great interest here in the probable course of Kansas and Iowa in the next election. Chairman Mitchell, of the Iowa Democratic Committee, wrote to Chairman Howell, of the Missouri Democratic Committee, a few weeks ago to say that Iowa would go Democratic in 1932. Kansas politicians are sure their State will go against Hoover. In some of the counties polls have actually been taken and they show that Hoover has completely lost standing. A remark common with corn belt Republicans, "If the Democrats nominate Roosevelt, I'll vote for him".

Democratic success in any event seems assured. If there is no economic improvement, the election will be a landslide for the Democrats, if there is improvement, Hoover may make a somewhat better showing. But it appears to be certain that the next President will be a Democrat, and that he will have a friendly Congress by a large majority.—Kansas City Star.

CLUB WOMEN RECLAIM VALUABLE FURNITURE

Refinishing and otherwise renovating shabby, discarded furniture has been stimulated in many States thru demonstration work in home improvement. Innumerable old tables and other pieces have been scraped and refinished, chairs and sofas have been reupholstered, chairs recaned or provided with new rush bottoms, and many other articles of furniture redeemed and improved for continued use.

Many interesting reports on this work have come to the United States Department of Agriculture. A home-demonstration agent in Kentucky writes: "One woman went to her meat house and hauled out an oval table that the men had been using as a meat block. One could not tell what the wood was and the top was fearfully hacked where they had chopped the meat on it. The owner scraped the top with glass, taking off at least a quarter of an inch of the wood to smooth the top. It was a beautiful piece of very old furniture; an oval-shaped end of a set of dining-room tables. It was beautifully inlaid".

In another case, in South Carolina, all the pulpit furniture of one of the local churches was refinished and reupholstered by some of the women in the community home-demonstration club They removed the paint from the three pulpit chairs with a strong lye solution and then rubbed them smooth with steel wool. The chairs were then refinished. The old upholstery material was taken off the chairs and new tapestry put on. This was finished off with braid. The Bible stand, two pedestals, and table were rubbed with steel wool until smooth and then refinished to match the chairs. The women even refinished the rail around the altar. The total cost was $10.19.

PUBLIC LOAN CORPORATION APPOINTS ROLAND BUSCH

Announcement has been made by the officials of the Public Loans Corporation, with offices in the H. & H. Building, that Roland G. Busch, will be the new Treasurer, and manager of the Company.

The Public Loan Corporation engages in the personal finance business, lending money under the supervision of the State Banking Department.

Mr. Busch, who has been residing sometime with his family in Cape Girardeau, in a recent interview, gave assurances that the same friendly treatment which has been accorded many customers of the company, will be continued.

Mr. Busch takes the place of Geo. A. Biedermann, who has been promoted to the managership of the company's Sedalia office.

"FREE PHOTO" SCHEME IS BAIT TO BUY FRAME

Agents are calling at the doors of many homes asking the housewife to select one of the envelopes which she holds in her hand. "If you draw one containing a lucky number", she says, "you will be entitled to a photograph enlarged and beautifully colored FREE".

The joker in this scheme is that most all of the envelopes contain lucky numbers.

If the scheme runs true to form, you will be called upon a few days later by another agent who will show you a proof of the enlargement of your photograph and ask you to select and purchase a frame for it. He will show you the coupon which you have signed and which contains some very fine printed matter in which you have agreed to buy a frame for the photograph. The frame is what you pay for.

There are many variations of the purpose of all of them is to sell picture enlargements scheme. The frames. The enlargement may be technically free, but this selling plan is an example and proof of the fact that you seldom get 'something for nothing'. Do not be misled by a trick or subterfuge.

Many of these schemes involve questionable selling methods.
